Falls 3 Floors

Into His Arms

Five-year-old Mary Schorr, at top, of Baltimore, Md., chose the hour of midnight to climb out on a window-ledge in her third-floor home. She became frightened, began to scream and cling to the ledge several minutes before she fell. But as she dropped down John Siesack, below, who had run out of the tavern he operates across the street when he heard Mary's cries, raised his arms and caught her as a football player snags a ball. Mary is pictured above safe and sound after her three-story fall. "I only did what anyone else would have done," commented former wrestler Siesack concerning his feat.

Corrigan Sees
Lindy Trophies

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Douglas Corrigan, who flew in the wrong direction to become a national hero, today viewed the trophies of an earlier transatlantic flier, Charles A. Lindbergh. Corrigan, whose admiration of Lindbergh's 1927 transatlantic flight caused him to make his own "wrong way" jaunt from New York to Ireland, toured the city as the guest of Mayor Bernard Dickmann.

The tour included a visit to Jefferson Memorial Museum, where are displayed the thousands of testimonials, honors and gifts Lindbergh received in recognition of his New York-Paris flight.

STATE ALLOCATES $200,000
FOR S. A. RIVER LEVY REPAIRS

Orange county today was allocated $200,000 in state funds by Gov. Merriam for emergency repairs of the Santa Ana river levees, destroyed by floods of last March.

Governor Merriam personally confirmed press reports of the allocation made by the governor's office, in a telephone message to Chairman Willard Smith, of the county supervisors.

The appropriation was made from the state flood emergency fund of $5,000,000, authorized by the state legislature in adopting a bill introduced by Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel, of Anaheim.

Smith Pleased

Chairman Smith, of the county board, expressed himself as well pleased with the amount of the appropriation granted to Orange county, saying that the governor

PLAN $385,000 J. C. BOND VOTE

Utopian "Schemes" Hit

TERM PLANS
DISASTROUS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Government officials acted today to halt the revival of "Utopian" old age pension schemes.

Only a week ago President Roosevelt warned publicly that there are "no shortcuts to Utopia." Meanwhile, Social Security board members were not a little alarmed by the plans which will be issues in forthcoming state elections.

Plan "Dangerous"

Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer, of the Social Security board, has warned Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo, D., Calif., that the "30 Every Thursday" proposal in his state would be disastrous to business. He questioned its constitutionality and asserted that it was not "economically sound or feasible."

Altmeyer wrote McAdoo, in reply to the Senator's request for the board's opinion, that the present state-federal old age assistance plan for needy aged would be jeopardized in California by the transfer of state resources to eligible persons over 50, who, regardless of need, would receive the larger amount.

Proposal Endorsed

McAdoo's opponent for the Democratic Senatorial nomination is Sheridan Downey, who was attorney for Dr. Francis E. Townsend's pension organization when it was

Japan Plans
New Policy

TOKYO, Aug. 23.—(UP)—A new statement of policy toward China, including Japan's political and military aims and its attitude toward interests of foreign powers, will be announced soon, it was reported today.

The newspaper Yomiuri asserted that five key cabinet ministers discussed the outline of policy at an all day meeting, but failed to agree and adjourned until tomorrow.

Cite Incidents

Yomiuri said that in recent days Russian troops frequently crossed the border on Saghalien island but fled when they sighted Japanese guards. Japan owns the southern half of the island and Russia the other half.

Well informed sources intimated that a new incident on the mainland, along the Siberia-Manchukuo-Korea frontier, involving the flight of Russian army airplanes across the border, was of minor nature.

Protest "Violations"

It was announced that Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese ambassador

Witness Jailed

Red-haired Julius Williams, above, Negro election captain, was sent to the Tombs in $10,000 bail after he sensationally charged the office of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey with using force to obtain from him a signed statement accusing James J. Hines, Tammany politician who is being tried in New York on a numbers racket charge, of getting him—Williams—a $30 a week job with the policy ring. Called as a State witness in the Hines trial, Williams instead repudiated his statement and testimony before the Grand Jury. He is a member of Hines' political organization.

Grand Jury
Probe Asked

Request for a special investigation by the county grand jury to determine responsibility for the political pamphlet circulated in portions of the county Saturday, attacking various candidates and other citizens, was made today by District Attorney W. F. Menton and Sheriff Logan Jackson, in their capacity of law enforcement officials.

Their joint request had not yet reached Presiding Judge James L. Allen, of superior court, at noon, but was filed with his clerk, to await his consideration.

Charge Libel

Menton and Jackson urged that the grand jury be empowered to investigate "responsibility for the writing, publication and distribution of" the pamphlet, for which three distributors were arrested in Fullerton on charges of violating the election laws, and two Los Angeles printers were charged with criminal libel. The libel charges were preferred by City Attorney George Holden, of Anaheim, candidate for district at-

KIDNAP SUSPECT IS NABBED BY POLICE

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 23.—(UP)—State highway police early today arrested the fourth suspect accused of the abduction and attempted emasculation of Irving Baker, former coast guard officer, in a plot allegedly inspired by a jealous and socially prominent Olympia physician.

On information reportedly given officers by James Reddick, taxi driver held with William McAdoo, former town marshal and Dr. K. W. Berry in the bizarre plot, officers arrested Robert W. Smith, 34, at nearby Montesano.

Led by Inspector Ed Willson the officers called Smith from his

HINES ACCUSED BY
DUTCH SCHULTZ AID

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—George Weinberg, operations manager for Dutch Schultz' multi-million dollar policy racket, testified today that he personally handed to James J. Hines, Tammany district, $500 a week.

Weinberg, who turned state's evidence to accuse Hines of furnishing political protection for the racket, testified in the trial of the political leader that he met Hines in April, 1932, and gave him the first payment of $500.

"Got a Raise"

He added that thereafter he met the political chieftain every week and paid him $500 a week, of 1932 and paid him that amount, at which time Hines "got a raise."

The meetings took place in front of Hines' house or at his club, the Monongahela Democratic club in Hines' 11th assembly district, Weinberg said.

District Attorney Thomas A. Dewey asked Weinberg if he had a talk with Schultz after this?

A. Yes, I told him it was time for us to show the people of Harlem our power, that we had the right kind of protection. I said we ought to open an office.

Q. What did Schultz say? A. He said "you know what you need but don't do anything. Don't open an office until you see Jimmy about it."

Met Hines

Q. Did you meet Hines? A. Yes at his house some time in June (1932).

Q. What did you say? A. I explained to Hines that we needed an office to show the people of Harlem that we got the right okay.

Q. What did Hines say? A. He thought a while and said "Open it up and try it and see how it goes."

FDR ASKED TO AID
RED INVESTIGATORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The house committee investigating the un-American activities, financed with $25,000 by congress, today voted to ask President Roosevelt to request government departments to furnish personnel and other assistance in its inquiry.

It was understood that most of the $25,000 provided for the investigation has been expended by the committee.

The request, made in the form of a motion by Rep. Joe Starnes, D., Ala., was approved unanimously.

Under the motion, Mr. Roosevelt would be asked to request executive departments "loan" the committee investigators, attorneys, clerical and stenographic aid.

Funds Lacking

The committee hopes to break up into three sub-groups immediately, one to hold hearings in the east,

CHARGE 4 CONVICTS
'SCALDED TO DEATH'

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Four convicts found dead in adjoining cells in Philadelphia county prison were scalded to death, Coroner Charles M. Hersch charged today.

Two state investigations began today into the strange deaths in the crowded county prison which terminated a noisy hunger strike of 650 convicts against the quality of the prison food. The naked bodies of the convicts—two in each of two adjoining cells—were found yesterday. Other prisoners were in the cells with the bodies. The cells were in the "isolation block," customarily used for disciplinary purposes.

Deny Violence

While Hersch and his physicians, Dr. Martin Crane, insisted that the men had met death by violence and that the circumstances were "suspicious," prison officials insisted that the deaths had been due to accidents and that the men were "radical agitators" who had been leaders in the hunger strike.

Daniel B. Conlin, senior state prison inspector, undertook one investigation. William J. Donagan, senior investigator of the state department of welfare, was assigned to Welfare Secretary Charles L. Engard to undertake another. An autopsy will be performed today to establish definitely the cause of death.

Bank To Have "Face Lifted"

Above is an architect's conception of the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of America at 116 West Fourth street as it will appear following completion of a huge remodeling project for the building. The plans call for expenditure of more than $50,000, according to C. A. Warren, vice president and manager of the institution's local interests. Actual work will start in the near future.

$50,000 REMODELING PROJECT
PLANNED BY BANK OF AMERICA

Plans for modernizing the entire building of the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of America at 116 West Fourth street at a cost of more than $50,000 were announced today by C. A. Warren, vice president and manager of the bank's local interests.

Detailed specifications for the space and tellers' windows. The huge improvement project now are being drawn, Warren said, and as soon as they are completed "local contractors will be given an opportunity to submit bids for the work."

Modern Vaults

The front of the building is to be brought out to the property line and completely modernized. New and modern vaults, protected by massive steel doors, are to be installed. The location of these vaults in the rear of the banking room will enable the architects to plan a complete re-alignment of fixtures, giving additional offices.

"Our banking room has ample space," said Warren, "but the present arrangement has too many dead corners and needless angles. I have gone over the preliminary sketches and am pleased with the adequacy of the quarters provided which will enable us to care for the increasing volume of business transacted. Modern, low-type fixtures and a complete ventilating system are to be a part of the installation."

Youth Shot As
Parents Quarrel

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Fulton Vickery, 17, in a desperate attempt to save the life of his mother, early today was shot and wounded by his father near the Vickery home 20 miles northeast of San Diego, Sheriff Ernest Dort reported.

From his hospital bed, young Vickery told deputy sheriffs how his father threatened to "blast" his mother with a pistol, how he stepped between his parents, grabbed his father's wrist and twisted it downward in time to deflect the bullet into his own body.

Elliot Bond Vickery, 47, Fulton's father, was booked at the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Riley Calls For Lower Taxes

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Railroad Commissioner Ray L. Riley, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator, in an address here last night called for lowering of taxes to relieve business.

He addressed a "Ray L. Riley Day" banquet held at the Breakfast club house. Similar banquets were held elsewhere in the state. Coupled with his attack on tax policies was a challenge of Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo's record in the Senate.

"To instill confidence into the business structure of this nation, and to re-establish the courage of our people," he said, "the federal government must: first, reduce the tax load; second, stop bureaucratic interference with business; third, give concrete assurances of a stable national policy, encouraging cooperation, not conflict, of labor and capital."

Await Ruling In
Theft Case

OROVILLE, Calif., Aug. 23.—The Butte county grand jury today awaited a decision from the state attorney general's office on its request that the state officer undertake a special investigation of circumstances surrounding the prosecution of Lindsay Adams, former chief deputy county auditor.

Adams was sentenced to San Quentin to serve a one to 10 year term after conviction on charges of embezzlement. He was found guilty of obtaining $450 in county funds by issuing fictitious warrants.

The jury stated its action was prompted by continued criticism of the manner in which the case was handled.

$100,000 FEE SUIT FACES
COLLAPSE AS MENTON QUILTS

Announcement by Chairman Willard Smith that he had been served with notice that District Attorney W. F. Menton would move to withdraw from the $100,000 fee suit against Sheriff Logan Jackson, precipitated heated remarks from certain board members over the district attorney's attitude in condemning their suit as political in character.

Supervisor N. E. West, main assistant to the district attorney, to handle the fee suit on a commission basis. Hervey has done some work, Mitchell remarked, wondering who would be liable for payment.

Mitchell then declared that the board should resist the district attorney's move to withdraw. Supervisor Steele Finley agreed with that viewpoint.

Supervisor Harry D. Riley, said he favored testing the ordinance, but that he believed the matter has "gone a long ways away from the ordinance."

Menton, in announcing his move to withdraw, said he has always been ready to bring a proper legal test of the fee ordinance.

The matter was scheduled for further discussion late today.

Booming Market
Seen for Autos

DETROIT, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Observers of the motor industry today predicted a booming market this fall in the wake of anticipated radical changes in the 1939 automobile.

Reports from the engineering laboratories indicate that the new models will have extreme "eye appeal." Manufacturers are hoping a radically different 1939 car will serve as the sparkplug to lift the industry out of recession.

Optimism prevails in the industry. Thousands of workers, idle during the summer slack period and the annual changeover, have been called back to work. Within another month the final assembly lines at all plants are expected to be in full swing.

Man Killed By
"Model Husband"

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(UP)—A coroner's jury convenes today to hear the story of Rudolph Sikora, 21, model husband, who killed the man his wife loved.

His story was one of unrequited love and jealousy—a jealousy so strong he waited on a street corner for five hours yesterday until he saw his rival, Edward Solomon, 35, an accountant, then pumped five bullets from a target pistol into Solomon's body. A dozen passersby saw Solomon slump to the sidewalk. A score stood by while Sikora carefully placed the pistol on a newspaper near the body, lit a cigaret and waited for police.

He told Assistant State's Attorney Leslie Curtis he had no regrets, no tears to shed. He said he had done it for his wife, Margaret, 22, an attractive brunette, to whom he had been married for three years.

AFL Starts War
On Bridges' CIO

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 23.—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor today began organizing its 50,000 affiliated seamen, longshoremen, truckers and fishermen into an integrated maritime department for an attempt to drive the Committee for Industrial Organization from the waterfronts.

William Green, federal president, announced the executive council, in session here, would charter a new international seaman's union, which will have a nucleus of 25,000 members, and that the longshoremen, stevedores and others vital to the shipping business, would help the new union expand.

Green said it would be "a direct thrust at the C. I. O. and Harry Bridges." Bridges is head of the C. I. O.'s International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, a powerful labor force on the Pacific coast.

FDR Okehs Names
For New Ships

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(UP)—President Roosevelt yesterday approved Indiana, Massachusetts, Alabama and South Dakota as names for four battleships whose construction will begin soon.

He agreed that four light cruisers yet to be started would be named Atlanta, San Juan, Juneau and San Diego.

Battleships are named for states, cruisers for cities. In selecting names, the navy department chooses those which have been "but Communists on the project are a distinct minority."

Denies Theater
Favors Reds

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Emmet Lavery, director of the federal play department of the federal theater and one of the founders of the Catholic Theater Conference, sent a letter to the Dies congressional committee today denying that the federal theater "is a patronage vehicle for Communism."

"It is perfectly true that there are Communists in federal theater just as there are Republicans, Socialists and Democrats," he wrote, "but Communists on the project are a distinct minority."

SERIAL STORY

HAYWIRE HOUSE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT, 1938
NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Grave days lie ahead for Haywire House when the Little Cheese decides to visit it and rub out Bull Griffin.

CHAPTER XIV

THE Little Cheese, driven by Mr. Red Scala, neared Winstock at about 10 o'clock in the evening. All during the journey the Little Cheese had been regretting that moment of bravado when he had undertaken to rub out Bull Griffin single-handedly. It was so long since he had personally rubbed out a guy that he felt a trifle rusty.

But there was one absolute prerequisite. Before tackling such a formidable personage as Bull Griffin he would simply have to have a drink. In a surly tone he directed Mr. Scala to stop at a roadhouse that now loomed on their right.

It was not the wisest course that he could have pursued. For some time the Little Cheese had been abusing the privilege of the grape. In fact, he had abused it to the point where his underworld physician had issued a dire prophecy. Unless the Little Cheese climbed aboard the wagon in a big way, he would become a candidate for that inquisitive state of being known loosely as the D. T.'s.

Under the stress of the zero hour, however, he forgot the doctor's warning. The roadhouse was snug and slatternly, just the kind of a roadhouse he felt at home in. He had a drink. He had another. He had a third. He bought the bartender a drink. He had one on the house. The result was that by the time he stood in the grounds of the darkened Restaurant the Little Cheese was somewhat polluted.

It was the Little Cheese's boast that, drunk or sober, he could jimmy a window to the queen's taste. He approached the house on unsteady legs and inspected it with slightly glazed eyes. It was as dark as the grave. The Little Cheese selected a likely-looking window that opened on the porch. Taking out his jimmy, he set to work.

And at almost the same moment something unusual occurred within the house. A door on the upper floor opened silently. An apparition in a flowing robe, that might have been Lady Macbeth in her sleep-walking act but minus her candle, issued forth. This presence passed in a ghostly fashion down the stairs, went unceremoniously along a hallway and entered a large bedroom near the kitchen.

THE Little Cheese finished jimmying the window and climbed stealthily into the living room. He felt well satisfied with himself. All he had to do now was to find out where Bull Griffin slept and shoot him in the head. The prospect pleased. With a flashlight in one hand and his automatic in the other, he began mincing across the living room.

Had he taken long, powerful strides all might have been well. But he minced. And when one minces his ankles are close together. In fact, and of a sudden, the Little Cheese's ankles seemed stuck together. Something soft, yet substantial, wedged between them. The Little Cheese stumbled, uttered a guttural imprecation and brought sharply up against a wall. As he struck it, the flashlight was jarred from his fingers.

Cursing volubly and feeling along the wall, his hand came in sudden contact with a wire. He felt along it. The wire ended in a wooden knob which in turn ended in a button. Obviously a light switch. The Little Cheese decided to risk a second of illumination to get his bearings. He pressed the button.

A terrible thing happened. Lights went up. But they were not the kind desired by the Little Cheese. Instead a horrible face, the eyes glassy and staring, peered into his. The Little Cheese jumped a foot in the air. Then, paralyzed with fear, he glanced over his shoulder. From across the room another face, even more ghastly than the first, glared at him. It was the face that glowed redly over slaving jaws. And then to his horror he discovered another one, wicked, demoniacal, the face of a werewolf.

Convulsed with terror, the Little Cheese looked suddenly at the floor. And there at his very feet glared up the most awful face of all, a great, grinning countenance with a long tongue and a row of frightful, gleaming teeth. In a flash he understood. His doctor had been right. He had the D. T.'s. He had 'em bad.

Shaking in every limb, the Little Cheese backed toward the window by which he had entered. All thoughts of Bull Griffin fled from his mind. He had to get out of here. He had to scam for his life. He took another backward step and trod on something. A sudden yip rent the stillness.

A moment before Wolfgang, Miss Fenimore's dachshund, had been pursuing an orderly course across the living room. And then suddenly he had got wedged between something. The something had stumbled over him and kicked him en route. Now it had backed up and stepped on his paw. Wolfgang was not used to this sort of thing. His yip was a yip of protest.

A WAVE of red frenzy swept over the brain of the Little Cheese. He lost all sense of direction and plunged madly about, overturning chairs and tables and all that got in his way. Then he found himself going down a kind of hallway, a hallway mercifully devoid of grinning faces. And there was a thin sliver of light coming from under what appeared to be a door.

As the desert traveler races toward the oasis, the Little Cheese raced for that light. His fumbling hands found a knob. He flung the door open and plunged into a room. The next instant an unearthly scream rang through the house.

The room was garishly lighted. By the bed stood a woman in white, a woman who now loosed off a succession of the most terrible shrieks that the Little Cheese had ever heard. And at her feet snakes of all descriptions were pouring from a box. There were big snakes and little snakes. Green snakes, brown snakes, and black snakes. Mottled snakes, speckled snakes. Hissing snakes and non-hissing snakes. And all of them were pouring out of the box, in a twisting, milling fantasy of reptilian confusion.

For a second the Little Cheese stood rooted to the floor. He knew now, beyond a doubt, he not only had the D. T.'s; he was in the last stages of them. He reeled suddenly, uttered a hoarse, piteous cry, leapt over the tangled snakes as the chamois leaps the chasm and landed on the bed. To rip open the bedclothes was the work of a split second. The Little Cheese covered himself up entirely, even to his head.

And then a great to-do sounded in the upper regions of the house. (To Be Continued)

COLOR ON ROOF HERE TO STAY SAYS ENGINEER

NEW YORK—Color on the roof of the American home has come to stay.

That's the opinion of Frederick H. Rahr, well known New York color engineer, who recently gained national prominence by the development of the high visibility spectrum yellow baseball—an innovation which promises to introduce a new safety factor into the national pastime.

Exterior, Too

"There is no reason for any American home to be drab on the exterior," Mr. Rahr declared. "And the American woman is realizing it. Just as she uses cheerful, tastefully chosen color for the interior decoration of her home, she is today recognizing the fact that the exterior, too—especially the roof—deserves a better color treatment."

The color expert explained that the manufacturers of mineral-surfaced asphalt shingles have been laboring in appreciating the value of color on the roof and have demonstrated that bright colors can be used without sacrifice of good taste. As a result of their research and educational efforts, color on the roof is now an important factor in home attractiveness.

Safety From Fires

"What I should like to emphasize," said Mr. Rahr, "is the fact that today's home owner, by making even a brief study of color or by seeking competent advice in the selection of his asphalt shingle roof, can make his home a place of charm and constant satisfaction."

The fact that he also obtains safety from roof fires and chimney sparks through the fire-resistant qualities of the mineral surface is, of course, an added reason why asphalt shingles should top his home."

JAYWALKERS WARNED OF LUCK

DALLAS, Tex.—(UP)—Junior Chamber of Commerce members stand on main downtown thoroughfares daily. Every time they see a pedestrian successfully completing a jaywalk crossing of a street, they greet the jaywalker with: "Hello, Lucky!" Then the jaywalker is handed a card warning that "You can't always be lucky."

GAMBLER IS NON-GAMBLER

NOWATA, Okla.—(UP)—Because he was not operating a game of chance, a carnival commissioner was haled into court here and fined $20. Officers explained that he was running a so-called "gambling stand," all right, but that there was no element of gambling in it—the customer didn't have a chance.

Almost any wild man will hesitate of attack if you pick up a stone and make a pretext of throwing it. Jungle explorers have found.

On Guard at Kiukiang After Japs Routed Chinese

Silent symbol of conquest is this Japanese marine on sentry duty at Kiukiang, China, occupied by Nipponese soldiers after bitter fighting. Gazing over the muddy flats reaching up to the Yangtze river, he views the Japanese warships that landed the marines and backed up their assault on Chinese positions.

"GEZIGGER, THE GEZOINT'S GEZINCHED"—CARNIVAL TALK!

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Mrs. Ann Cameron, who operates a concession in a street carnival at intervals, admits that carnival people have a language all their own and are pretty interesting people.

"Gezigger, the gezoint's gezinched," for example, sounds like a lot of double talk, but it really means the show is raided. Mrs. Cameron, who tells fortunes, says, however, it is not necessary to use that expression often.

As further evidence of carnival-ese, Mrs. Cameron offered: "The shills and the sticks heard that blowoff and lammed for the flaps. The gezops comed the zoint but the gezaid was off."

"That," she explained, "means that the men and women whose job is to draw in customers by posing as customers themselves fled toward the exits of the tent. The police saw that the show was deserted and the raid had failed."

"Carnival people have coined a language all their own," she said. "Just as have those who inhabit other worlds. The swing musicians have their own language, the underworld has its own language. So have carnival people."

"But don't ask me how it started. The people on these shows were talking like that long before I ever took to the road."

Many carnival people are highly educated, contrary to popular belief, Mrs. Cameron said. As an example she cited Mrs. Hughie Lowe, who stands in front of a row of baby dolls and urges you to try your luck with baseballs. Mrs. Lowe is a university graduate and has a master of arts degree. During the winter months she teaches

HELD TO ANSWER ON LEWD ACTS CHARGE

Elliott Benjamin, 24, Los Angeles salesman, who is charged with the commission of lewd and lascivious acts, today was under $10,000 bond and an order to appear for preliminary hearing at 9 a. m. Wednesday before Justice Chris P. Pann.

Benjamin was brought before Justice Pann yesterday afternoon for preliminary examination when bond was set. "Is it possible for you to appoint counsel for me?" Benjamin asked the court. "No. That is done in superior court, and the date for your preliminary hearing on the felony with which you are charged is set for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning," replied the court.

Benjamin was nabbed Saturday in a South Beach street home, where he is alleged to have forced his advances upon a young girl, who subsequently identified him for Police Officers Charles Neer and Arthur Anderson. In default of bond, Benjamin was placed in the county jail.

TOLEDO.—(UP)—Only 1.2 per cent of Toledo's 67,000 homes are vacant, according to the latest survey.

WHY CHANGE TREASURERS?

Good Public Service

The present county treasurer has made an excellent record. He has secured adequate protection for county property. Visit his office and see for yourself. Instead of the poorest in protection, the office is now ONE OF THE BEST IN THE STATE.

His office is a FINANCIAL ASSET TO THE COUNTY. He is earning money for the county, 50 per cent more than estimated by the budget board.

And, Taxpayers, listen to this: He is going to run his office this year for 10 per cent less than it cost last year.

His administration of inheritance tax matters is ranked high among the treasurers of the state, and that work is EXTREMELY IMPORTANT.

STEPHENSON HAS MADE GOOD ON EVERY JOB HE HAS EVER HELD.

ANSWER THIS QUESTION: If you had a man work for you who was earning more money than you expected, who was ranked as among the best employees in his class in the state, whose work has never been subjected to adverse comment, WOULD YOU FIRE HIM?

The Answer Is: Vote for T. E. STEPHENSON COUNTY TREASURER

Dog at Tulane Goes To Class For Nine Years

NEW ORLEANS.—(UP)—Not many of Tulane University's students can come up to record of Mountain Bow, an engineering professor's pet spaniel.

For nine years now, Donald Derickson and the dog have come into the classroom side by side. Derickson steps to the lecture platform and Mountain Bow drops down on the floor.

"He is very good," Derickson said. "Like the average student, he is attentive for a while, then he yawns and goes to sleep. You could not ask more of any student."

And what is more, the spaniel wakes up the instant the gong sounding the end of the class is heard. He gets up and dashes back and forth over the classroom. There is little possibility of his master continuing the lecture after hours.

Since Mountain Bow has seen two graduating classes come and go, his most confirmed friends are among the Tulane faculty, who have been teaching as long as he has attended classes.

During free periods, Mountain Bow ambles into the cafeteria. He has a weakness for a kind of candy the cafeteria sells.

WIFE HEROINE IN FIRE

CALDWELL, Ida.—(UP)—Edward Garber, 45, farmer, is alive today probably only through the courage and heroism of his wife. With his clothing afire from a gasoline blaze, he was trying to extinguish the flames by rolling on the ground, until his wife succeeded by covering him fully with her own body.

GAS MASK TRADED FOR FISH

LONDON.—(UP)—The Demon district air raid prevention officer left a gas mask for practice purposes at one of the houses in his jurisdiction. When he returned four days later he discovered it had been traded for two goldfish by the 7-year-old daughter of the family.

POLICE RADIO AUDITION ASKED

MIAMI, Fla.—(UP)—Miami policemen are wondering if they are the victims of practical jokes. They received a letter from two Fort Lauderdale sisters, asking for an audition on the police broadcasting station.

Somebody Pays!—Old French Custom

In France, somebody pays for every fire!

The Code Napoleon—formulated by the Little Corporal—which still prevails in France and Belgium, holds that every person causing a fire must pay for it. The police, or gendarmes, carefully inspect the scene of every fire to place the responsibility. As a result, the culprit, whose negligence or carelessness caused it, is charged for all damages, even though a square block of buildings is involved.

Owners whose property is involved need only bring suit against the offender to collect. They must prove, however, that the fire was directly due to gross carelessness, neglect, or mischievous intent.

Tenants, in particular, feel the full brunt of these statutes. A tenant, convicted of responsibility for a fire, must make good to his landlord all the rents lost by reason of the fire, and pay for all needed repairs.

JAPAN SENDS 60,000 TROOPS TO FRONT FOR BIG OFFENSIVE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Sixty thousand Japanese reinforcements poured to the front in the Yangtze valley today in preparation for a steam roller offensive on all fronts.

FRANCO FACED WITH COSTLY OFFENSIVE

HENDAYE, French—Spanish Frontier, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Loyalists held their ground on the Ebro river front in northeastern Spain today and asserted that the five day old Nationalist counter offensive may prove to be Generalissimo Franco's costliest offensive since the unsuccessful campaign on Madrid.

Official Loyalist reports indicated that nature was aiding the Republicans who maintained they had strengthened their positions around Gandesa by effective activities of their airplanes. Heavy rains during the last few days were reported to have made the ground a quagmire—an advantage for the Loyalists since the insurgent tanks were useless.

Take Prisoners
The Nationalists had little to report from the Ebro sector. A communiqué said that the insurgents captured 1353 prisoners and "occupied further important positions during desperate fighting."

A government communiqué said that the Loyalists had turned back every insurgent attack and inflicted heavy losses among the attackers. It admitted that the Nationalists had captured a strategic position known as Hill 444, but claimed that the Loyalists counter-attacked and regained it.

Squadrons of Japanese planes systematically battered defenses all along the line, while artillery poured shells into Juichang and Matouchen, hotly contested towns near Kiangsi.

City Threatened
Chinese said 20,000 Japanese troops had joined the Singtze column, trying to drive southward and out the Nanchang railway near Teban, 45 miles south of Kiangsi.

They said Japanese troops drove within three miles of Juichang, which they admitted was in danger of imminent collapse after 18 Japanese planes had bombed it all day.

Wusueh, on the south bank of the Yangtze 25 miles west of Kiangsi, was similarly bombed.

Bomb Hankow
Japanese planes continued attacks on Hankow's communications, including an attack by 18 Japanese planes at Chuchow, on the Canton railway 23 miles south of Changsha.

The Chinese admitted losses on within three miles of Juichang, claimed to be holding the Japanese to the north.

HEROES GRAVES HUNTED
HELENA, Mont. (UP)—Adjutant General John W. Mahan has gone to France where he will attempt to locate bodies of 13 comrades buried in a dugout during the World War. Mahan, only survivor of the group, was commissioned by the war department to search an area which on Sept. 12, 1918, was an American front-line sector.

Featuring a variety of musical instrumentation, the CBI Ambassador quintet, of Springfield, Mo., will appear at the Full Gospel Assembly, 1600 West Third street, to present a service composed of music, testimonies and a gospel message.

Among the various musical combinations will be a trombone trio, brass trio, vocal trio, brass quartet, accordion, saw, violin and piano.

Before returning this fall to Central Bible school, Springfield, this quintet will have traveled through 26 states, Canada and Mexico. The purpose of the tour is announced, "is to bring encouragement to young people who are following Christ." Members of the group comes from the United States, reaching from New York to Oregon. They include, from left to right in the picture: Keith Whitford, Bath, N. Y.; Elmer Bell, Milwaukee, Wis.; Irvin Mitchell and Albert Earle, both of Everett, Mass.; and Wildon Colbaugh, Medford, Ore.

Hungary Ready To Re-Arm

BLUED, Yugoslavia, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The Little Entente nations—Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania—today recognized the right of Hungary to re-arm for the first time since the World war.

In return, Hungary agreed to avoid armed force in settlement of international problems.

The decision of the entente nations was announced in a communiqué issued at their conference here. The Hungarian minister to Yugoslavia had been in close contact with the conferences and originally it had been intended to negotiate an accord covering a wider field in central European relations.

School Bond Election Slated

Alex Brownridge, of the advisory committee, expressed fear that the bond issue would not carry, but agreed that the people should have a chance to decide the question. The present time is inopportune from a psychological standpoint, said Brownridge, because new budgets have just been announced for county, city and schools, all of them higher than last year, so that the people know taxes are going up.

The three members of the board present, Chairman Wells, Toul and Smith, all expressed belief that it was their duty to give the people a chance to vote on the issue.

"If they vote the bonds down, they will be voting down a gift of 4 per cent of the cost and will be voting to ultimately pay the entire cost themselves," said Smith.

Cards Received
Wells reported that, following the recent junior college mass meeting, about 75 cards had been received by the board, of which 55 per cent urged the board to proceed with the program, a few urging further study, and some favoring continued effort to form a union district.

Commenting upon the financial loss to the district in loss of junior college attendance, Superintendent Henderson said that "if we fail to sign and lose 200 students, that means a loss of $54,000 per year in state aid."

"And that," said Burns, "also means a loss to the businessmen and people of Santa Ana. He added that Santa Ana junior college lost five boys last year to Fullerton junior college, because of the aeronautics course at Fullerton.

G. W. Bassett, secretary of the Orange County Builders Exchange, told the board his organization is much interested in seeing the project proceed. He felt the board was obligated to call for a vote.

Makes Statement
A statement was issued today by Chairman Wells on behalf of the board, as follows:

"In presenting the needs of our junior college to the community, our board is fully aware of the economic and financial conditions at the moment. However, in as much as our college is steadily growing and present available facilities are limited, we are confronted with need of a new campus and plant.

"If we proceed now, we feel sure we can secure federal assistance of 45 per cent of the entire cost, including land requirements. If we delay the new plan, it is quite likely that we would have to stand the entire burden.

"In the event the bond issue of $385,000 carries, our board has gone on record that the money will not be spent unless it is matched with a 45-per cent federal grant.

"In determining this amount of $700,000, of which our share would be $385,000, and the government grant $315,000, our board, together with the citizen's committee, felt that with a sum of $700,000 we could make a very substantial start on a college plant consistent with the needs of our community. This $700,000 would not give us as fully complete a plant as had been recently discussed as a union junior college project, but we feel it will serve for the present."

Utopian Plans Are Attacked

demanding $700 a month for every one over 60.

The $30 every Thursday plan has been endorsed by signatures of more than 800,000 Californians on an initiative petition for the November ballot. Legality of the initiative's title was attacked by several taxpayers, who petitioned the state supreme court to keep the measure off the ballot. These opponents charged the title was misleading, that the plan was unconstitutional and would precipitate economic chaos. The supreme court was expected to rule on the matter by September 3.

Million Eligible
Altmeier estimated that at least 1,000,000 of the 1,600,000 persons over 50 in California would be eligible for the weekly payments at a cost of $1,560,000,000 a year, or nearly four times the amount now collected in state and local taxes.

The plan calls for issuance of warrants to the beneficiaries by the state. A two cent redemption stamp would be affixed by Altmeier's experts computed that 2,300,000 Californians would have to pay $625 a year apiece in these new taxes.

Effect Disastrous
"The fundamental premise behind this proposal appears to be the theory that business will be enormously stimulated through the increase in the income of individuals above 50 years of age who receive these warrants," Altmeier wrote to McAdoo.

"There probably would be an increase in prices because of the introduction of this new medium of exchange. However, economists are generally agreed that the effect on business and industry would be disastrous."

DOWNY RAPS
ALTMEIER STATEMENT
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Sheridan Downey, opposing incumbent W. G. McAdoo for the Democratic nomination, charged today McAdoo is attempting to advance his political fortunes at the expense of a great social movement—the California pension plan.

In a telegram to McAdoo, Downey said:

"I have just read the statement from Altmeier (Chairman Arthur J. Altmeier) of the Social Security board condemning the California pension plan. It is an unjustified and despicable attack on a great social movement, and I want to challenge its truth and propriety."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Elizabeth Berry, 27, wife of the physician, said her husband had "reason to be jealous" of the former coast guard service officer.

Other than to say that she would "stand by her husband," Mrs. Berry declined to elaborate on her statement. She did not say whether she considered Dr. K. W. Berry's attack on Baker justified.

Dr. Berry, 54, William McAlone, former town marshal, and James Reddick, taxi cab driver, were taken into custody yesterday and charged with the kidnapping and attempted mutilation of Baker.

Dr. Berry told officers that three men had assisted him in getting Baker to a gravel pit where the beating occurred last Friday night, but that they did not help him in administering lashes with a leather strap and in beating Baker with the butt of a pistol.

A pair of pliers was used in an attempt to mutilate the former coast guard officer. Baker did not suffer permanent injuries, however, and today he was recovering.

McAlone was in a hospital where attendants were attempting to sober him after three days of drunkenness.

State Allocates Funds To County

appropriations announced by the governor's office today, Orange county's was the largest in the state except that of Los Angeles city and county. Previously there had been an allocation of $95,000 to the joint outfall sewer project in Orange county, in addition to the $200,000 allocated today.

Chairman Smith said today that until it was ascertained what engineering restrictions are attached to the allocation, the local board would not be able to plan how it shall be expended, to supplement the emergency appropriation of county funds, amounting to more than $100,000.

"Meanwhile," said Smith, "we must keep going with our present emergency work. We can't afford to waste a day's time."

GOLFER TAKES TO CANOE
NORRISTOWN, Pa.—(UP)—The Whitehorse golf course was under five feet of water in some spots following a week of heavy rain, but Bob Ransford wasn't to be denied his regular practice round. He borrowed a canoe, loaded in his clubs, and paddled and swung his way around the 18-hole course.

of the prison, first said the men had killed themselves. Later he refused to comment on the reports of Dr. Hersch and of other persons who viewed the bodies in the morgue. Hersch, Dr. Crane, and others said that the bodies showed signs of having been scalded, burned, immersed, and beaten.

Detective Sergeant Martin Curran announced that he had interviewed other prisoners in the isolation block, particularly Joseph Forte, 24, and Morris Spatz, 27, one of whom had been in each of the cells in which the deaths occurred, and had concluded that the four men died of "over-exertion, exhaustion and under-nourishment."

"Scalded to Death"

Judge Harry S. McDevitt, president of common pleas court, who on Saturday at Mills' behest tried to quiet the striking prisoners, said the men had torn out steam pipes in their cells to use as weapons and had been scalded by escaping steam.

The dead convicts were Joseph Walters, 28, serving 20 to 50 years for burglary; Harry Osborne, 22, 10 years for burglary; Frank Comodeca, 46, 10 to 20 years for burglary; Joseph McQuade, 26, three years for larceny.

Ask FDR To Aid Red Inquiry

one in the midwest and one on the west coast. However, lack of funds it was understood might force cancellation of part of the plans.

It was understood unofficially that the committee particularly desires to borrow agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as well as attorneys from other departments to aid in preparation for public hearings.

Split Fears

The request for assistance coincided with reports that internal dissension was developing on the committee, with at least one member complaining against the trend the inquiry has taken.

Stamps entered his motion as the committee, opening an investigation into Communism in colleges, heard testimony that a magazine at Brooklyn college—admittedly a Communist publication—probably is published through a government agency. The charge was made by Edward L. Fourn, professor of philosophy at the school.

Placentia Man Is Held In El Monte

Paul Tumbaga, 27, P. O. Box No. 476, Placentia, today was in the custody of El Monte police, according to deputies of Sheriff Logan Jackson, for prosecution on a felony hit-run charge.

Tumbaga, arrested at his home by deputies, is alleged to have struck a boy with a car in El Monte some time during the week-end, and to have left the scene of the accident without stopping. Police said one of the headlights on Tumbaga's car was broken, but had no other details of the case.

Berry Attacks WPA Assessments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Sen. George L. Berry, unelected in the recent Tennessee Senatorial primary, charged today that Tennessee Works Progress Administration employees were assessed $125,000 in the bitterly fought campaign.

Berry asserted that information on heavy WPA campaign assessments has been placed before WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and other federal officials "without avail."

KLAN CHARGES ARE DENIED BY M'ADOO

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Senator William Gibbs McAdoo today said charges he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan in 1924 were "utterly and wantonly false" and that a Klan membership card displayed last night at a political rally was "just plain forgery."

"The card, in the form of a photographic enlargement, bore the name of 'William G. McAdoo' and was signed by 'H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard.' The card did not, however, bear McAdoo's signature."

Hall Makes Charge

Poison Hall, former United States district attorney for Southern California, displayed the card at a political rally in behalf of Sheridan Downey, candidate for McAdoo's seat in the Senate.

"Any such charge that I was a member of the Klan is utterly and wantonly false," McAdoo said when informed of Hall's charges.

"I never was a member of the Klan and I never had any connection with it in any manner whatsoever. I have never heard of any card issued to me by the Klan. As far as I am concerned it is just plain forgery."

at Moscow, had protested strongly against the alleged frontier violation to Maxim Litvinov, Russian foreign commissar.

Shigemitsu charged that there had been a violation of the Japanese-Russian frontier truce. He said that continued activity of the Russian planes would cause serious consequences.

"Forge" Incidents

But later, it was learned that the Russian planes were merely carrying food to isolated Russian patrols, and the tendency seemed to be to forget it.

A new phase of diplomatic activity has been started in which Japan seeks to reopen its consulate at Khabarovsk and Blagoveshchensk, Siberia, Russia forced them to close. Now Japanese authorities assert that the closure was unlawful.

STRIKE FRONT IS CALM TODAY

While all continued to remain undisturbed on Orange county's strike front today, the ears of the area's officialdom nevertheless are pinned to the ground for the slightest rumble of possible disturbances.

This was revealed today in a glimpse of reports submitted by the sheriff's farm theft detail. From the northern borders of the area to places deep in the Irvine ranch, and from the slanting western border to the coast, the detail roamed throughout yesterday afternoon, evening and last night.

Only "a few drunks" ruffled the surface of the otherwise quietude that has followed in the wake of announcement from various sources that hundreds of vegetable field workers are continuing their protest against a 25-cent-an-hour wage.

Microscope Taken From Hospital

Perhaps it was done to size up better the political situation in Orange county, or maybe just to gain an improved insight into things in general.

Anyway, it's gone, and it's not the little yellow basket. It's a valuable microscope, a one-eye-piece monocular, if you please. It was stolen some time Saturday or Sunday from an intern's room in the basement of the Orange County hospital, according to a report this morning to Sheriff Logan Jackson from Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the institution.

A complete description of the microscope, together with peculiar details that are designed to aid in its recovery, were turned over to Deputy Sheriff James Musick, who is investigating.

Easier and more accurate turning, as well as a lowering of fuel consumption, is claimed for tractors equipped with non-skid "ring" tires on the front and extra high cleats on the rear tires.

Solving A Delivery Problem In China

BLOCKADES and other restrictions on commerce incident to war often put difficult obstacles in the path of industry and the shipping business. This is particularly so in ancient, picturesque China. There, American automobile manufacturers recently have encountered difficulty in landing shipments of new cars at important ports. In shipping cars to Tsingtao, in Shantung province on the Yellow Sea coast, Ford Motor Company Exports, Inc., at Shanghai has found its delivery problem anything but routine.

Steamships are not allowed to enter Tsingtao inner harbor, and must anchor in the outer basin, two miles from the piers. For this reason, the cars are not yet built to navigate on the high seas, so it was necessary that a way be devised to land the cars in Tsingtao. Accordingly the services of coolies and junks were enlisted. From the steamers the cars are loaded onto junks and ferried to sand beaches bordering a section of Tsingtao's wall. At the beach they are unloaded from the junks by coolies, as the accompanying photograph shows.

But the beach is so soft that a road of planks must be laid across a 50-yard strip of sand to get the cars to a gate in the Tsingtao wall. Even then the job of delivering Ford cars to Tsingtao is not an accomplished fact. The gate through the city's wall at this point is set at such an angle that coolies must pick up the rear ends of the units and lift them around through the opening. Thus, with the aid of the traditional coolies and age-old junks, are today's modern vehicles of transportation shipped into war-harassed China.

SWIMMING POOL OPERATES AT LOSS

Operation of the high school swimming pool this summer, to date, has been carried on at a net loss of $16.64, according to a report presented the board of education last night by Auditor Harold Yost. The report showed a deficit of $55.28 for the preceding year and $129.54 for two years ago.

198 Prisoners In County Bastile

"And I hope it never happens again." That was the laconic statement today of Deputy Jailer Bill Young when a reporter asked about the "barometer" that tells how many are locked up in the county bastille. The "barometer" this morning read: 198 prisoners, covering defendants placed there under the greatest variety of charges imaginable.

"What is the capacity of the jail?" Young was asked. "Three hundred," came the reply, "but at one time we had over 400 in here." "When was that?" "During the citrus strike—and I hope it never happens again."

JAYSEE STUDENT LEADERS TO PLAN FRESHMEN RECEPTIONS

Student leaders of Santa Ana Junior college will meet tonight in Bungalow L to lay plans for Freshmen Days which are scheduled for Sept. 6, 7, and 8 on the North Main street campus. Associated Student President Bill Twist is in charge of general arrangements.

The college executive board, presidents of the men's and women's service organizations and academic groups will discuss the program to entertain hundreds of Orange county students prior to their entrance at the college. Director D. K. Hammond and John H. McCoy, assistant director, will assist in making arrangements.

Purpose of Freshmen Days is to acquaint new students with the various functions of the college. The college English and aptitude tests will be given during Freshmen Days.

Members of the executive board who will meet with Twist include Jack Lentz, vice president; Walter Swanberger, treasurer; Josephine Butler, secretary; Frank Was, men's athletic commissioner; Barbara Smith, AWA president; Peggy Faxton, women's athletic commissioner; Phyllis Kogler, social commissioner; Jack Brounink, commissioner of advertising; Roy Potter, commissioner of assemblies; and Ed Velarde, editor of El Dorado. Club presidents who will be present are George Aupperle, Joe Thompson, Margie Brown, Juanita Stanfield, Gertrude Yount, Merle Swingle and Keith Tantlinger.

Delegates Return From Conclave

Plans for active work in juvenile delinquency in Santa Ana are under way today as Ernest Dunn, dictator of Loyal Order of Moose, and Secretary M. F. Miers prepare reports of the state convention of the organization held last week in Santa Barbara at which juvenile problems were one of the principle subjects for discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and Miers returned from the four-day parley on Sunday. The two men were official delegates to the convention and were initiated into the Loyal Order of Moose. It was the fifth annual state convention of the organization.

14 PAY FINES IN CITY COURT

Santa Ana's city treasury clanked with many more shakels yesterday when 14 defendants appeared, entered pleas of guilty to their respective charges, and either were fined or sentenced to the Orange county jail by Judge John G. Mitchell.

Mrs. Charles Hazmaehaleh, of 67 East Commonwealth street, Fullerton, was fined $5 and costs when she pleaded guilty to a charge of having jumped a boulevard stop.

Falling to appear on a charge of speeding in the local area on Aug. 17, cost Jack H. Zillman, of Los Angeles, an extra $5 on his fine, which totaled $13.

One William A. Pace, 46, no address, one of two vagrants arraigned, was asking for free meals and he got them—for 3 days in the county jail, he other man, Stephan Hatfield, of Eagle Rock, Calif., received a sentence of 15 days in jail, but it was suspended on condition that he immediately leave the city and county and stay out.

Pleading guilty to a charge of selling magazines here without a license, Ernest Groves, young Los Angeles man, was fined $25 and costs and committed to jail in default of payment. Three $1 over-time parking assessments were paid by J. C. Armstrong, 1113 South Flower street, David Martin, 711 Fairview, and another person who was not registered by the court.

John Albert Scovill, of 412-1-2 East First street, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $150 and costs, paid $50 and arranged to pay the balance at the rate of $15 a month. Paul S. Jones, of Los Angeles, was fined $6 for speeding. There were three fined for drunkenness, while a fourth forfeited a $15 bond.

Cyclists Warned By Officers

Riding of bicycles by boys on city streets is becoming a precarious matter, it was revealed today by Sgt. N. C. Nelson.

As a matter of fact, one boy rider, who had been ordered to answer to a complaint before Judge John G. Mitchell and failed to appear, was picked up on a warrant and certified to the juvenile court. Shortly afterward, Sgt. Nelson was called to investigate reports that boy bicyclists were making it dangerous for James C. Marshall, of 212 Berkeley street, an elderly man, to walk on the sidewalks of the vicinity. The boys were warned.

No Profanity But Plain Swearing

"Mebby we were using a few swear words, mister, but no sree, no profanity—please, mister policeman."

So declared one of several boys yesterday afternoon after it had been reported that the boys were using loud and profane language while at play on a lot at the rear of 1316 North Garvey street.

Pajamas Stolen From Automobile

"Now, listen Mr. Hemenway (at least that's the way he told police he spelled it), you can't go without your pajamas."

That might have been what officers yesterday told Roy V. Hemenway, of North Hollywood, and Hemenway had good reason to go without said pajamas. He lost them and many other personal effects to a thief who stole a large imitation leather grip from his automobile while it was parked in the downtown section of the city.

The sense of direction displayed by him in migration still is a puzzle to science. Many authorities believe that birds are able to detect the earth's magnetic force, which affords them a constant directional guide.

Pennsylvania leads all states in the Union in the number of motor policemen, the roster showing 1098 active officers.

4-H CLUB LEADERS AT PICNIC SUPPER

Thirty 4-H club leaders met Monday evening for a picnic supper at Jack Fisher park in Santa Ana. Following the supper a business meeting was held.

The first topic taken up was that of delegates to the 4-H club convention to be held Sept. 1-4 at Davis agricultural college at Davis. Leaders reported about 39 club members would attend from the various 4-H club of the county. Four leaders will accompany the group with expenses paid. These leaders will be selected later.

The Los Angeles County fair was next discussed and five or six of the clubs intend to enter feature booths again this year. Individual entries will also be made by many of the club members. The matter of selecting three judges for this work was discussed and plans made for selecting leaders from the local group for Orange county's representatives.

The annual achievement day program was set for October 15th, with the time and place to be fixed later.

Tidelands Bill Is Topic Of Debate

"While the Olson Bill is designed to augment state revenues by comparatively leasing the state-owned tidelands, the leasing provisions of the bill are sufficiently stringent to raise the question as to whether adequate bids will be made."

This was one of many points brought out at the regular meeting of the Public Affairs Council of Santa Ana in a regular meeting recently at the Y. M. C. A., by Wilfred B. Taylor in a discussion of the Huntington Beach tideland oil drilling measures.

"Lack of bids will permit the state to go into the business of producing oil itself," Taylor stated. "Such an entry into production would deprive Orange county of revenues on oil thus produced and would put the state into direct competition with an industry from which it is already drawing a huge income."

The proposals have no apparent connection with the conservation of resources, but simply aim to increase the state's share from taxation and lessors' royalties combined," Taylor concluded.

GIRL WANTS "LAZY" JOB
EDGEWORTH, Pa. (UP)—Marian Jewell, 25-year-old brunette, sought a job by advertising in newspaper columns: "Job wanted by lazy girl, educated and good looking." Replies included two marriage proposals, "mash" notes and a few that seemed to be bona-fide job offers.

Police News

Accused of using profane language in the presence of his wife, Mrs. Wilma Huntley, and of challenging her "to fight with him," Silas Huntley, of Santa Ana, yesterday afternoon appeared before Justice Chris P. Pann in local court. He entered a plea of guilty, and his bond was set at $150. Justice Pann continued the hearing and pronouncement of judgment until Wednesday morning "in order to learn more facts in the case."

F. R. Gillis, of Los Alamitos, today had his horse back, and everybody was happy. Gillis thought the horse had been stolen, so he notified Sheriff Jackson's office. Deputies no more than had started on an investigation when Poundmaster Harold D. Pickering came through with the report that the horse had been found safe and was awaiting the owner at 4800 West Fifth street.

MORSE CLEARED; ELKS SEEK THIRD WIN

S. BERNARDINO BLANKS STARS ONCE MORE, 2-0

Huntington Beach and Anaheim play the fourth and final game (if Huntington Beach wins) of their Shaughnessy play-off semi-finals at Anaheim tonight. Venn Botts and Rudy Heman probably will be the two opposing pitchers. The Oilers lead the series, three games to none.

It was the same old story at the Municipal Bowl last night. San Bernardino won from Santa Ana.

Only thing different was the score. This time it was 2 to 0 instead of 1 to 0, the margin of the two previous engagements. Taking a 3-1 edge in the series and needing only one more victory to go into the Shaughnessy play-off finals, San Bernardino now has blanked Santa Ana in the last 27 consecutive innings.

As in the other games, Stanley Jacobsmeyer pitched winning ball for the Stars, holding the inlanders to five hits yet losing because his mates simply couldn't manufacture anything like a run off "Lefty" Bob Fowler.

Santa Ana started like it meant business. "Doc" Smith singled sharply to left and Fred Wiener sacrificed, getting a life when Stock dropped Strain's peg to second for Smith. But Mott and Short struck out and "Bomo" Koral died on a towering fly to center. Two hits were wasted in the second inning, as were all other Santa Ana threats.

San Bernardino went out in order for three frames but collected a run in the fourth when Stock singled infield, took second after Richardson had collared Zickrath's long drive to right and came home on Strain's single to center. Strain's blowoff single Santa Ana's strategy, Jacobsmeyer having purposely passed Cecil (Gabby) Watson to get at the weak-hitting Strain.

Watson made the strategy look better, however, by socking a slow ball over Richardson for a homer in the ninth.

The cubs go back to Colton tomorrow night and San Bernardino expects to end the series there. Ray Short made two stunning catches in center, robbing "Bossy" Gilhouse of a homer in the seventh. Watson is a big favorite with Santa Ana fans. He's the league's No. 1 comedian. . . . Strain made a spectacular stab of Tommy Young's liner in the ninth.

Jimmy Slattery Unable To Pay Fine Of $5

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Three unshaven, unkempt men stood before the desk sergeant in a Washington police court.

One kept his lips grimly shut. "What's your name?" the desk sergeant asked.

"Jimmy Slattery."

He and two other men, seen drinking in a public bar, had been brought to the court by Policeman Albert Kreuger.

His name rang familiar to the sergeant. A Jimmy Slattery, he recalled, once fought Light Heavyweight Champion Tommy Loughran to a standstill and lost two close decisions to Maxie Rosenbloom for the same title. But that fellow wore $135 suits with a bankroll of several thousand dollars stuffed in the pockets.

Slattery admitted his identity but declined an offer of money. He also refused to telephone Jack Dempsey, here on business, for help which the officers insisted the former heavyweight champion would tender.

Jimmy chose instead to stand up in long line of drunks and petty thieves.

"Five dollars or five days," said the judge.

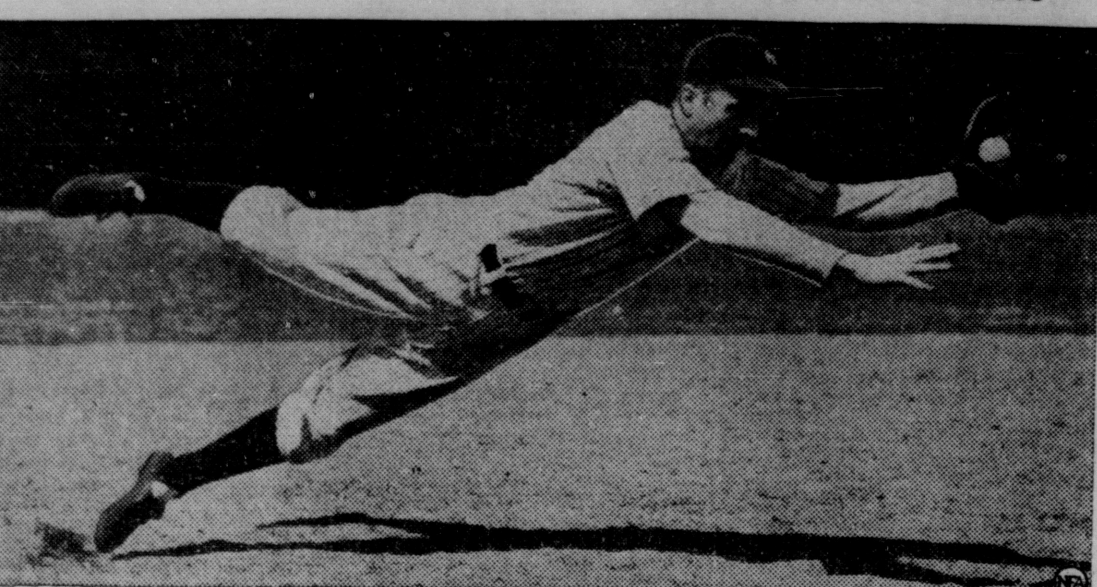

A girl reporter stepped forward: "Well, Jimmy, this is on the press." Jimmy mumbled his thanks.

"I'm here looking for a job," he said, "and just had to have a drink when the policeman spotted me. I'm only 24 and healthy. There ought to be some way I can make a living."

Then he shuffled off—his head high, hands thrust deep in shabby pockets.

Stimulus of Gordon Shocks Crosetti To Greater Efforts

Frank Crosetti, above, is covering more ground than he ever has before, with the impetus being furnished by young Joe Gordon, whose play at second base has speeded up the Yankee shortstop considerably.

By JERRY BRONDFIELD
 (NEA Service Sports Writer)
 NEW YORK—Frank Peter Joseph Crosetti, the champion hollerer of the American league, considers himself fortunate to have a youngster like Joe Gordon next to him at second base.

Because it is Gordon who finally is establishing the San Francisco Italian in his rightful place in the baseball sun.

It seems as though Yankee followers have never fully appreciated the chatterbox shortstop, since Tony Lazzeri departed these haunts, has become the eyes and brains of the Yankees' infield.

Never a slugger worthy of the name, Crosetti has been overshadowed by Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey, Lou Gehrig, Red Rolfe and other Yankee fence busters, but now it rapidly is becoming apparent that without him the Yankee infield would be sadly lacking in championship spark.

Right now Crosetti is faster and

TUSTIN OUT OF COUNTY SERIES

San Juan Capistrano made it three in a row over Tustin when they dumped the Orange County league's No. 1 team, 6-2, and eliminated it from the Shaughnessy play-off finals, at Tustin last night.

Yorba Linda prolonged its series with Placentia by winning 5-0. The Placentians held two previous victories over Yorba Linda.

Winner of the Placentia-Yorba Linda series will clash with San Juan Capistrano next week for the league championship.

Veteran Al Bushman limited Placentia to two scattered hits, while his teammates hopped on big Wilbur Stinchfield for 12. Yorba Linda scored single runs in the second, fifth and seventh and two in the ninth.

San Juan Capistrano got to Henry Martinez and Leo Morse for a total of 13 basenocks, 12 of which were collected off Martinez, in running up six runs on Tustin. Tustin's only runs came when Ed Starkey hit a home run with George Padua aboard.

Need Staff Linguist At Doubles Tourney

By HENRY McLEMORE
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

BOSTON—My office sent the wrong fellow up here to cover the 57th annual National tennis doubles championship at the Longwood Cricket club.

In me it sent just a staff reporter whose chief equipment is a typewriter, a notebook and pencil, and a large set of ears. What it really should have sent is a staff linguist, a master of languages capable of walking into the Tower of Babel and carrying on a spirited conversation with all present.

Because this is more than a tennis tournament, this is a League of Nations in shorts, skirts, ice-cream pants and Culottes. Players from half the countries in the world are here, filling the refined back Bay air with a variety of sounds that defy description.

Can you imagine my perplexity when an umpire, high in his chair, cuts loose for the first time with this sort of thing:

"Sudac pripravan jeram!" That's Jugo-Slavian for "Linesmen ready? Play!" And it is always called when the Jugo-Slavian Davis-cuppers stand ready for a match. All I understood of the command was that part which sounds like "scram" and was making ready to obey, and bolt from the press box, when some kind compatriot who had been tipped off as to what was coming, grabbed me.

Later in the day I heard "Linesmen ready? Play!" called in French, German, Polish and even Japanese.

In French it goes "Juges lignes pret Jouez." I'm practicing that one, and will that waiter be surprised the next time I order in a French restaurant.

The German version is something like this: "Schiedsrichten fertig spiel." At least I think that's the way it goes. Of course, my interpreter might have kidded me and given me the name of a fancy rabbit dish with kraut and Frankfurter sauce.

The Polish version can't be written well on this type-set because many of the letters in the Polish alphabet are sprinkled over the top with funny little thing-a-majigs.

Without the little symbols over their heads they are no more good than a breaded veal cutlet is without bread. But I'm a game salmon and willing to try a swim upstream, so here is what I think they yell when Jadowicz Jedzewska stands poised at the baseline.

"Sedziowie Linijowi! Gotowi! Proszę zagrynac!"

I would like to warn my readers right now that they needn't expect any interviews got enough troubles.

I would like to warn my readers right now that they needn't expect any interviews with their foreigners. I've got enough troubles without trying to carry on a conversation with Franjo Kukuljevic, say, or Ferenc Puncoc, or Fumi-tora Nakano or Yasumine Kura-rumitsu.

I stayed in Boston until I mastered such questions as "What do you consider the most difficult shot in tennis, Mister Kukuljevic?" or "Is the texture of our grass courts as good as in your native land, Mister Kuramitsu?" I would be up here until my beard interfered with the flow of traffic on Commonwealth avenue, and all my social security money was gone.

I am having to practical-ly live on alphabet soup as it is, just to get the bare results of the matches right.

Reveal 'Inside' Of Pittsburgh's Spurt

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO—The behind-the-scenes story of the rise of the Pittsburgh Pirates goes back to an afternoon in the Polo Grounds, New York, May 22.

On that date the Giants slaughtered the Pirates, 18-2, and made the team that is now rolling on toward the National league pennant look like something that got into the Polo Grounds by mistake.

Out of the ashes of that defeat a new Pittsburgh ball club, President Bill Benswanger and Manager "Pie" Traynor held a conference and decided to junk the entire ball club if necessary. Traynor stayed up all night smoking countless cigarettes. Along about 7 a. m. he went to bed for a few hours sleep before going back to the Polo Grounds.

Traynor dropped his gentle, soft-spoken manner for a while and cracked the whip over the lackadaisical Pirates.

Traynor did his job well—the Pirates licked the Giants that day.

The new spirit of the Pirates reached its peak in June and July when Pittsburgh won 40 out of 54 games and charged into the lead July 12.

Strangely enough, the Giants played a big part in firing up the Pirates again in August. In New York the Pirates were amazed to see Catcher Gus Mancuso quoted as saying: "The Pirates have nothing but a bunch of softball pitchers."

The next day Pitcher Joe Bowman went to Mancuso and told him, "We're a lot of softball pitchers, eh? Well, I'm going to throw the first six pitches right at your head." Mancuso caught the second game of a doubleheader and Ed Brandt dusted him off.

That night Mancuso came by the hotel where the Pittsburgh club was stopping and told Traynor that he didn't make the remark attributed to him and that he had not been interviewed in two years by the writer who quoted him.

One of the big incentives for most of the Pittsburgh players is

STAR RETURNS TOUR EXPENSES TO NET BOARD

NEW YORK—(UP)—Helen Wills Moody informed the U. S. Lawn Tennis association by letter today that she was not physically able to participate in the National singles championship at Forest Hills beginning Sept. 8.

"It is with regret that I have to make this decision," the world famous tennis star wrote, "but I have played very little since my return from abroad because of a severe attack of neuritis. I have been taking treatments but so far have not improved to any measurable extent."

The news was a blow to the U. S. L. T. A. which had banked on a renewal of the Moody-Helen Jacobs "feud" as the big gate attraction of the 1938 championships. They had hoped for the sequel to the Wimbledon final when Mrs. Moody won the title in straight sets after Miss Jacobs suffered an injury to her ankle with the score 4-4 in the first set.

"Without preliminary practice and feeling as I do now, it would not be possible to play in such competition as is offered at Forest Hills," Mrs. Moody informed the U. S. L. T. A. "I hope you will convey this information to the tournament committee with expression of my sincere regrets."

Mrs. Moody enclosed a check for $102.45 to the association which she explained represented "the entire amount given me as a representative of the U. S. L. T. A. for traveling expenses while a member of the Wightman Cup team and during the time I was a competitor at Wimbledon."

"I am grateful to the officers of the U. S. L. T. A. for their kindness to me in the past and also for their having included me on the Wightman team this year," her letter said. "Also for their having given me the privilege of representing the United States abroad in the Wimbledon championships. Since I intended before I went abroad to play both at Wimbledon and in our own championships at Forest Hills, and since I am unable to do the latter, I hope the U. S. L. T. A. will accept the enclosed check."

On the bottom of the letter was a postscript saying that she was being treated by a New York doctor for neuritis.

Failure of Mrs. Moody to enter "Yes, ma'am" comments Jake Bond in the Ontario Report, "one full U. S. L. T. A. immediately after the deadline closed yesterday, but officials extended the time 24 hours in hopes they would receive her entry."

Badminton Stars Clash Tomorrow

HOLLYWOOD—(UP)—Guy Reed of Pasadena, titleholder, and Howard Brand of Canada, challenger, will play at the Hollywood Sports Center tomorrow night for the Pacific Coast professional badminton championship.

Reed, 34, is a former world champion and has won the title in 1937 and 1938. Brand, 32, is a former world champion and has won the title in 1936 and 1937.

The match will be held at the Hollywood Sports Center, 1000 Hollywood Blvd., at 8 p. m.

Admission is 50 cents for the general public and 75 cents for the "box" seats.

Refreshments will be served by the Hollywood Sports Center.

For further information, contact the Hollywood Sports Center, 1000 Hollywood Blvd., Hollywood, Calif.

Del Mar—Interest in the second running of the $5000 added Del Mar Handicap was reaching a high point this week with the big stake up for decision Saturday and a capacity field of top western handicap stars slated to go postward.

Heading the field of candidates will be Binglin stock farms' Ligart, the Southern American racer that came within a whisker of hanging one of the mighty Seabiscuit in their special match race here last August 12.

Robert Riskin's Dogaway, perhaps the best of the others in the list of 17 nominated for the event, will pick up 123 pounds against Ligart's impost of 126. The Del Mar 'Cap is over the mile-and-one-sixteenth route and should be a fair test of route ability for the handicap racers named for the fixture—here that was won last year by Anthony Pucinnelli's Sally's Booter, the ill-fated gelding that died a few months after winning the race.

A new threat was uncovered last Saturday in Bing Crosby's 3-year-old California-bred star, High Strike. Carrying 111 pounds and conceding scale weight to half the starters in the contest, the colt won the Oceanside Handicap, also at the mile-and-a-sixteenth, in a driving finish with Mrs. A. M. Koewler's Capt. Cal. High Strike's impressive victory cost him three pounds in the Del Mar Handicap, for Racing Secretary M. H. Morrison announced Monday that the colt will be penalized that much weight and must take 114 pounds postward if he goes Saturday.

Del Mar's second season of horse racing will come to a close Labor Day. Officials are highly pleased with the success of the current meeting, Monday that the colt won its first five-day session of the turf sport this week.

Alan Gray, youthful Idaho youngster, and Silvio Couci, Bronx Italian, continue to set hot pace in the jockey race at Del Mar, but were closely pressed by Paul

SPORTS WHIRLIGIG; NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

At least three—and maybe more—Orange county high school football graduates are on the University of California campus and duly registered as Bear freshmen. They are (1) Don Warhurst, captain of Santa Ana's Citrus Belt league champions, a husky end or center who has amazing speed for a big fellow; (2) Ray Amling, Orange's great all-around athlete, who made all-star teams in football, basketball and baseball; (3) Larry Stump, average to .301 at Clinton (Three I league). Meanwhile Louie Nava Novikoff, another softball disciple, has regained his old batting eye and is clubbing 'em to the tall uncot. His ambition is to lead the Three I and graduate to a league of some higher classification.

Perhaps the way was cleared for him to join Los Angeles when the Angels swapped Marv Gudat to Oakland. . . .

Assistant Coach Benny Sheffer has resigned at Riverside Jaycee to coach at Ferris high school. Rumors have it that ex-Trojan Jesse Hill will return to Riverside as Jesse Mortensen's aide-de-camp as soon as the Coast league ball season is over. . . . Ventura Elks claim the South-Central Elks championship as a result of their 3-2 win over Santa Ana. They'll meet El Centro Saturday in the first of a three-game series for the Southern Cal. crown.

Lansing Hill returns from Big Bear with word that Vic Walker, the retired sporting goods man, is staying in the valley "until he's snowed out." Paraphrased, that means "until the football season starts." . . . After watching Santa Ana and San Bernardino wallow through three successive shutouts, pitcher's battles, your correspondent realizes anew just how greatly Snow White (Huntington Beach) outclasses the Seven Dwarfs of the National Night Ball league. If in the mood, Huntington Beach would smack down either San Bernardino or Santa Ana in straight sets. . . .

Mayor M. M. McCallen of Huntington Beach and his committee of Jim Farquhar, publisher of the Huntington Beach News; Harry Westover, state senator, and C. M. Wood, will present a silver cup as a trophy to the winner of the Huntington Beach Handicap at Del Mar track tomorrow.

It will be Huntington Beach day and the Huntington Beach committee also will award $50 to the winning jockey of the race named in honor of the South Coast city. Both McCallen and Wood are active turf enthusiasts, being owners with two other partners, of the Marcaro stable, Sky Glare, one of their horses, runs in the Huntington Beach Handicap.

Riverside junior college will have a dormitory this year for the first time in history, a building on Main street at Riverside having been leased by the student body. Alterations are under way and will complete the structure will provide accommodations for 20 boys.

H. B. ACTS TO CANCEL TIDELAND CONTRACTS

COUNCIL OPENS FIGHT ON BIDS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 23.—The city took action last night to cancel all tideland oil contracts made by former city councils.

The oil committee and the city attorney were instructed to contact attorneys holding tideland oil contracts in an effort to have the contracts cancelled by mutual agreement.

Two contracts are in force, one with George Bush, of Los Angeles, and L. W. Blodgett, of Santa Ana, signed January 3, 1934, and the other with Denis Hart and Taubman, of Long Beach, signed March 1, 1937.

The contracts call for a percentage on royalties received by the city from the tidelands. When the contracts were signed each group of attorneys received $2500 cash.

Open Bids Sept. 1
Mayor M. J. McCallen declared that the city is the city's first move in its fight to prevent the state from drilling the tidelands west of Twenty-third street. The state has called for bids to be opened September 1.

The city plans to seek a restraining order against the state as soon as it settles the matter of the tideland contracts with the attorneys. McCallen said. The city seeks clear title to the tidelands without being involved in contracts, McCallen said.

Chapter To Hold Dinner Program

FULLERTON, Aug. 23.—A 6:30 o'clock dinner program Wednesday at Hillcrest park cabin will serve the first anniversary of Ann Newman chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America. This chapter of the Izaak Walton is the only all-feminine group in the entire league. Husbands and families of the members are to be guests for the occasion.

Center Officers Guests At Dinner

OLIVE, Aug. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hight were hosts last night at dinner served in their outdoor living room and members of the executive board of the Football Farm center and their wives were guests. The outdoor room is set in a square of orange trees.

Programs for the coming year were discussed and the opening meeting was announced for September 8. The meeting will be featured by reports of summer activities of the farm bureau and centers and R. W. Hull will give a report of the 11 western states conference at Yellowstone park the past summer.

Mrs. E. B. Workman was appointed as dinner chairman for the year. Present other than the hosts and their son, Bobby, were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hull, Mrs. Royal J. Mueller and Mrs. E. B. Workman.

State Tidelands Ownershi p Upheld

Question of the state's ownership of Huntington Beach tideland oil pool was again raised in the oil pool suits here today, and again was put down in a ruling by Judge L. N. Turrentine, of San Diego, who upheld the state's ownership to tidelands.

Attorney George Bush, Los Angeles, representing two defendants in the state's suits for injunctions against whistock drilling, filed a demurrer and motion to dismiss, on the ground that the federal government, after purchasing California land from Mexico, did not cede its tidelands to the state, and that now the state courts have no jurisdiction over the cases brought by the state.

Babcock Studies New Challenge

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 23.—(UP)—District Attorney Otis D. Babcock today studied a challenge of his efforts to punish William C. Silliman and Clayton S. Adams, Los Angeles private detectives for their refusal to answer questions before the Sacramento county grand jury investigating charges of legislative corruption.

Proceedings in Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon's court were postponed to next Friday after Col. W. H. Neblett, counsel for the two defendants, filed a demurrer contending Babcock made a "legal error."

Neblett stated the court has the power only to instruct the investigators to answer questions. The attorney also argued Sacramento courts have no authority in a Los Angeles case.

LEAGUE HOLDS PARTY
WINTERSBURG, Aug. 23.—A wiener bake held by young people of the Wintersburg Methodist Epworth league at Corona Del Mar proved an enjoyable evening affair and the young people were chaperoned by the Rev. George Quayle and Max Hoepfner.

Included in the beach party were Scott Hoepfner, Norman Harding, Donald Harding, Junior Heil, Dorothy Murdy, Junior Platt, the latter of Arizona, Virginia Greenwood, Bobbie Bergner, Everett Graham, Bob Jackson, Louise Betschart, Raymond Holt, Evelyn Wood and cousin, Miss Wood, of New Mexico, Naomi Stinson, Maxine Bingle, Jimmie Lewis, Betty Slater, Alice Slater.

Man Escapes In Spectacular Crash

Leo Roland Sampson, of Los Angeles, miraculously escaped injury at 12:32 p. m. today when his car turned over twice in a spectacular accident at Fourth and Baker street, and landed on a fire plug on the northwest corner.

First reported as a collision, the accident attracted a squad of police officers including Lieut. Alvin Hershey and Officers Daniel Jones, Chief Gross and Burnette Lane, in addition to the Orange county ambulance service, Sampson, who emerged from his badly wrecked car unscathed, said he lost control of his car when he swerved to avoid hitting another machine that was headed south on Baker.

An ornamental light post of the city was broken in the smashup.

Music and Talks Heard By Club

Craft talks by three new members of the Santa Ana Rotary club and a program of music by the "Apollo Four" a quartette of school teachers from Southern California, entertained the Rotary club this afternoon at the Masonic Temple.

J. H. Daniger, program chairman for the day introduced the quartette composed of Harvey Brubaker, Albert Guay, Marvin Bolinger, and Dan Stover, club pianist.

Speakers on the program were Dr. A. E. Vallier, Milton Poppet, and William F. Croddy.

Perkins Reports Employment Gain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reported today that factory employment increased 40,000 in July and that weekly factory payroll increased by nearly $800,000.

She said that the report marked a definite improvement in the employment situation and that it was the first employment gain shown in any month since September, 1937.

"Gains of 0.7 per cent in factory employment and of 0.4 per cent in payrolls were reported, although factory employment normally declines by about 1 per cent and payrolls by about 4 per cent in July," the secretary said. "Non-agricultural employment usually declines by about 140,000 workers in July."

"This year," she said, "it is estimated that there was practically no change."

Bomber Starts Hop To Bay City

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The army bombing plane B-18, the first of its type to make a non-stop flight across the continent, took off at 8:54 a. m. EDT, from Mitchell Field today to return to San Francisco.

The airplane arrived here Saturday, 15 hours and 35 minutes after it left the coast. The return trip will be made in easy stages with Buffalo the first stop. Lieuts. David H. Walker and John G. Armstrong are piloting the Douglas twin motored plane.

Police News

"A very sick man, Clyde Hall, of Bakersfield, was taken to Orange county hospital yesterday afternoon by the Orange County ambulance service," according to a police report. G. M. Falls, of 604 East Fourth street, notified police of Hall's illness at the Falls' home.

Following a reported tiff between Jesus Ruiz, of 1901 Logan street, and his father-in-law, Ruiz, asked police to find her husband, whom she said she feared was intoxicated and driving in the city. Hartley cruised about the city, but failed to find a trace of Ruiz.

Unidentified owner of a white New Zealand rabbit may obtain the animal by contacting George K. Northcott, 1105 Hickory street, according to police. Northcott reported the rabbit wandered into his backyard yesterday.

Police headed by Detective Lieut. Charles W. Wolford today were investigating an attempt to burglarize the home of George O. Canfield, 1115 North Olive street. It was learned, police said, that a would-be burglar had used a small ice pick to open a screen of the bathroom window at the Canfield home, but was unable to enter because the window was locked. Officers indicated fingerprints had been found.

CASE CONTINUED
The case of the "people versus Ernest Myers," which had been set for hearing today in Santa Ana justice court, was continued today until Aug. 31. According to Clerk Ralph Gordon, Myers is defendant in litigation that contends he carried no workman's compensation for employees, as required by law.

WOOD, HUNT LOSE TO AUSTRALIANS
Chestnut Hill, Mass., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Australia's Davis Cup spars, Harry Hopman and Leonard Schwartz, furnished the National tennis doubles championship with its first real surprise today when they outfought and outlasted Sidney Wood of New York and Joe Hunt of Los Angeles to win 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, 5-7, 6-4, in a second round match.

Will Make Report On Convention

A report on the 26-30 club national convention held in El Paso last week, will feature tonight's meeting of the local club when it meets in Daniger's cafe.

Herbert L. Hill, delegate from the Santa Ana club, will present the highlights of the convocation. Hill acted as leader of discussion group for new presidents. He was recently elected deputy district governor for Southern California.

Transport Plane In Speed Tests

Scores of passing motorists stopped along the highway near Eddie Martin Airport yesterday afternoon to witness trial speed tests of the DC-4, giant Douglas transport plane on the airport speed course.

The easy approach to the three kilometer course (nearly two miles) has made it an attraction to fliers from all parts of Southern California. Two U. S. Navy planes utilized the course this morning, airport officials said.

Hope Fades For Shooting Victim

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Little hope was held today for the recovery of Mrs. Emma Jewett Krueger, harvester heiress, after a painfully whispered "death-bed statement" in which she again accused Charles E. McDonald, unemployed electrician, of shooting her down on crowded Hollywood boulevard last Friday.

Torn by pain and informed that she was dying, the desperately wounded woman managed to make a flat denial that there had been anything "strange" in the attachment between her and McDonald's wife, Mrs. Frances McDonald, party in the afternoon were the honoree, Elaine Henkey; her sister, Doreen Henkey and cousin, Patricia Henkey; Patricia and Joan Gibbs, of South Pasadena; Kenneth and Maxine Madden, of Hollywood; Mervyn and Beverly Tappender and Patsy Smith, all of Huntington Park; Muriel Miller, of Los Angeles; Irene Leavall and Dorothy Benton, of Highland Park; Dorothy Riecke, Barbara Dorn and Betty Binley, all of Pasadena; Diane and Lorraine Crandall, of Santa Ana; Loreta Casey, of Altadena; Billie Baker, of Long Beach; Mabel Jean Brown and Alma Brown from Arizona, and the following from Seal Beach: Helen Wolf, Betty Wolf, Virginia Austin, Donnie Hagler, Gloria Blanton, Shirley Bradford, Joyce Ekberg, Cornelia Morrison and Helen McDemon.

4-H CLUBS PLAN STATE MEETING

Final preparations are being made for the transportation and care of 30 members of Orange County 4-H Clubs to the 23rd Annual State 4-H Club convention, which opens at Davis on September 1st and extends through September 3rd.

The Orange county delegation will leave Santa Ana Wednesday afternoon, August 31, and will leave Santa Ana Wednesday afternoon, August 31, and will return on September 4. They will be in charge of leaders from both boys and girls clubs, assisted by Rosa E. Crane, assistant farm advisor. About 1000 delegates from practically every county in California are expected to attend the convention.

The program of the convention includes visits to the various departments of the College of Agriculture at Davis and inspection of the purebred herds and demonstrations of new developments in agricultural practices. On Friday, September 2, the group will be taken to the State Fair at Sacramento by special train, where they will be guests of the State Fair Board and Governor. In the evening they will be given a dinner in the new Administration Building on the Fairgrounds.

On Saturday afternoon the Orange County group will go to San Francisco, where a tour of Chinatown is planned.

Delegates who attend this convention are selected by club members and leaders and are chosen for their general 4-H club interest and participation in club activities. It is a greatly coveted honor to be chosen as a delegate and the prize that club members often work toward for several years.

Ohio was the first state in the Union to provide a law censoring motion pictures.

are the government

That is, if we assume our responsibilities in devoting constructive thought and action to eliminate some of the inefficiency that is known to exist.

L. A. Bortz, prominent rancher, former Farm Bureau president and cooperative marketing leader who firmly believes that the ranchers should run their own business, is a candidate for supervisor from the Fourth District. He is a man who will represent the people. Regarding county government, he stands for:

1. Making the job of supervisor a FULL TIME JOB!
2. An immediate halt to the continued increase in tax levies.
3. Consolidation of county department functions to eliminate costly duplication; closer cooperation between the cities and the county on problems affecting the entire county.
4. Absolute elimination of the rural road tax.
5. Continuance of an adequate relief program, but taking steps to provide gainful employment for men on useful long-time projects.

WALNUT GROWERS TO MEET AUGUST 31ST

Walnut growers of Orange county have set Wednesday, August 31st, 1:30 p. m., for a county-wide meeting at Santa Ana to consider preharvest and harvest problems in connection with orchard handling and market outlook.

The growers will discuss improved harvesting methods that will result in better quality nuts and thereby better returns to the grower. Picking schedules, the husky situation in Orange county, and crop and market outlook are topics to receive the attention of the walnut growers assembled.

The following program and speakers are announced by the Farm Advisor's office, which is cooperating with the Farm Bureau Walnut Department in conducting the educational meetings: "Report of Walnut Picking Conference," by A. D. Smiley; "Better Quality and Returns Through Faster Harvesting Methods," by O. Lee Braucher, field department of California Walnut Growers association, and M. H. Kimball, agricultural extension service; "The Husky Situation in Orange County," by Kenneth Sloop, deputy agricultural commissioner; and "The Present and Future Market Situation," by A. W. Christie, California Walnut Growers association.

The meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Willard Junior high school. Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg will preside at the session. All growers are urged to attend, according to Rufus Porter, the chairman of the farm bureau walnut department.

S. A. YOUTH AT FLORIDA BASE

Having completed his year's training at the United States Naval Air station at Pensacola, Florida, Charles E. Roemer, 21-year-old son of Fireman and Mrs. Charles E. Roemer has been stationed with the plane carrier battleship U.S.S. Lexington, it was announced here today by the navy department. The Lexington is at present stationed at Long Beach.

Roemer, high school and junior college football player and president of the junior college student body in 1935, became interested in aviation just a little more than a year ago and secured an appointment to "The West Point of the Air" at that time. Previous to that time he had been interested in mechanical engineering.

James F. Patterson, of Maricopa, Calif., is the only other California youth to finish in this year's class of 14 graduates.

Roemer Senior is captain of the rescue and salvage squad of the Santa Ana fire department at main headquarters and resides with his family at 111 Highland avenue.

SALES EXPERT TO GIVE TALK

"Business will pick up when you pick it up."

This is the theme of a sales talk to be delivered at Santa Ana junior college hall, Tuesday evening, August 30, by George M. Irving, nationally known sales counselor.

"For entirely too long the merchants and salesmen of the country have been waiting and praying for business to pick up in place of planning and working. The greatest trouble is that while most people wish for success, their wish-bone is where their backbone ought to be," Irving said. Irving has worked with many national organizations, including General Electric, Westinghouse, the Fuller Brush company and has a national reputation of being able to show merchants and salesmen how to increase sales and profits. In the interests of better business the retail division of the chamber of commerce of Santa Ana has endorsed Irving's lectures.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, August 23.—The wisdom—or folly—of Doug Corrigan's decision to cash in, via the screen, on his transatlantic flight, is Hollywood's current bone of contention. One party argues that he has proved himself a smartie by taking the cash and letting the credit go; the other contends that he has sold idealism short and sacrificed a career which might have been as brilliant as Lindbergh's for a mess of Hollywood potage. Personally, I think he has made a sad mistake—but the thing that really interests me is the plight of Howard Hughes.

Hughes spent something like a half-million to break the round-the-world speed record, and he did not spend it solely for the advancement of aviation. He planned to produce a great air epic—a pageant of flight which would be climaxed by just such a feat as his own. And he counted on the tremendous publicity attending his triumph to sell his picture for a record price. Then came Doug Corrigan, a crazy kid in a crazy crate, and Howard Hughes' name dropped back to the second page.

Corrigan's signature on a screen contract is the final blow to Howard Hughes' great publicity campaign. Being as tenacious as a bulldog, Howard will undoubtedly produce his picture as planned, but John and Jane Public will have their attention concentrated on the kid who did the improbable. A freak of luck has cost Howard Hughes a fortune.

It's not the proper clan spirit, but I'm chucking—and so is the rest of Hollywood—because of a gag played on a rival columnist. A studio big-wig assured him yesterday that five famous actresses are pooling their earnings and sharing

OSCEOLA CAMP OPENS AUG. 25

A few reservations were still open today, for the Orange county Friendly Indian Y.M.C.A. camp at Osceola, which officially starts Thursday, August 25, and terminates September 1, Herbert Thomas, Santa Ana Boys' Work secretary and camp director, announced this morning.

A younger boys' camp, this annual Friendly Indian period at Osceola has come to be one of the most popular periods in the lives of hundreds of Orange county youths during the past 10 years. Approximately 60 Friendly Indian age boys from Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange will attend the camp this year, Thomas said.

Mr. Rupert McArthur, will be in charge of Indian lore, and Sheldon Swenson, Orange "Y" secretary, will lead the Bible study groups and the devotional periods. Mrs. Jennie Kenline, will again have charge of cooking the camp meals.

Featuring hikes, swimming, Indian-craft and entertaining camp fire programs, the campers are slated to be treated to one of most diversified camping periods in a number of years. A leaders' meeting will be held this week to complete the list of leaders, Thomas stated. The group will gather at the Orange Y.M.C.A.

Dog Catcher Back From Vacation

All good but naughty little A.W.O.L. dogs in Santa Ana and vicinity today were slinking about the city in obscure places.

The reason for all the inconspicuousness was that Poundmaster Harold D. Pickering had returned from a two weeks' vacation. During the trek, on which he was accompanied by Mrs. Pickering and their two children, Jack, 11, and Barbara, seven, the party fished for three days at Ensenada. From there, the Pickering family traveled to Sequoia, thence to San Francisco to visit friends, "and we took our time coming back to Santa Ana in order to see all the sights on the long return trip."

Honor Women At Lions Meeting

A special ladies' day meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club has been arranged for Thursday noon when Miss Imogene Warder will give an uncensored lecture on conditions in Spain and her experiences in the war area. Thirty or 40 wives of members are expected to attend the meeting.

On the same day approximately 25 members of the club will leave at 6 a. m. from Newport pier for a day of fishing. Bill Sebastian has arranged the angler's outing. Five competitions for fishermen have been arranged by Sebastian and Wayne Harrison.

RELEASE STUDENTS TO HARVEST CROPS

COUNTY GIVEN PUBLICITY IN "LOOK" MAGAZINE ARTICLE

Heralded as the "Queen of Swing," or the Big Apple—or sumpin'—one of Orange county's best-known resorts and meccas of the pleasure-seeking modern youth, the city of Balboa and Balboa Island, this month gained nation-wide publicity.

Nine candid camera shots of dancers, and several other informal scenes, appear in the current issue of the picture-magazine "Look," which is dated Aug. 30, 1938.

The occasion was a "jam session" or "swingaree" staged by a radio station on June 18 in Balboa to celebrate the end of the school year.

"On that date," explains the article that accompanies the pictures, "the amazing swing music fad in the U. S. hit a new high. On that day, some 5,000 'cats' and 'liligators rose at dawn to cut rugs' and 'kicked out' at 6 o'clock in the morning."

"The night before the party, 'ficks' and 'jitterbugs' started arriving. Many came in parties composed of members of local swing clubs. Most of them came by car, some by foot. One young man drove 396 miles from Tonopah, Nev. One came on crutches."

"From 6 to 8 in the morning, the ballroom of the Balboa Rendezvous shook with their dancing of the Big Apple, the Varsity, the Suzie-Q while the orchestra and a phonograph 'gave out' with 'ficks' and 'solid senders.'"

Four Booked For Illegal Entry

DAMAGE SUIT TO BE HEARD WEDNESDAY

Expected to consume the entire day Wednesday before Justice Chris P. Pann, of Huntington Beach, who is on the bench for Justice K. E. Morrison, is the case of H. T. Outland against the Kelly Roofing Co. and R. C. Clement, truck driver, for a total of only $443.16 damages.

Although pointed out by Court Clerk Charles Tulene and Ralph Gordon that the amount asked is comparatively small, they explained that allegations contained in the petition, filed several weeks ago, likely will require much time in elaboration.

Outland asks $35 personal injury among other things as the result of an automobile crash Feb. 17, 1937, in which he alleges that Clement was at fault in a collision of the Outland automobile and the truck that Clement was driving. In addition to carelessness and negligence, other allegations are made by the plaintiff.

SESSIONS TO BE SHORTENED

Adjustment of elementary school schedules to permit shortening of sessions in the Mexican schools during the season of walnut harvest was authorized by the board of education last night.

About 500 Mexican students annually working the walnut harvest, which extends during the first few days of the school term, and unless provision was made for their attendance at an abbreviated school session during the harvest period, they would remain out of school altogether. Superintendent Frank Henderson reported to the board last night. Among other results would be a heavy financial loss to the school district in average daily attendance allowance received from the state.

The board last night approved contracts with Long Beach and Los Angeles junior colleges providing for interchange of junior college students.

Authorization was granted for attendance by board members at the convention of the state school trustees association in Los Angeles September 3, 4 and 5.

Miss Marion Bruner, physical education teacher at high school, who has been on a year's leave of absence while studying in New York, last night requested and was granted extension of leave for another year.

"COSMETICS" BRACELET LEIPZIG (UP) Essential toilet articles may be carried in the new "vanity" bracelets now. Neatly packed away in the wristbands are a mirror, powder plate, lipstick, eyebrow pencil and powder puff. The bracelets were displayed at the Leipzig fair.

Close Friends Make Gifts To Party Honoree

Friendships formed by Mrs. Ellen L. Custard of Long Beach, on her frequent visits here when Santa Ana was the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Boyle, were beautifully expressed Saturday afternoon when Mrs. John L. McBride entertained at tea in her home, 1110 Spurgeon street, as a compliment to Mrs. Custard.

To give the charm of romance to the afternoon, Mrs. McBride was able to inform her guests of Mrs. Custard's plans for a quiet wedding on the following day, Sunday, August 21, to a sweetheart of her early youth, Walter H. Jones of Bethel, Kans. Immediate result of the party which was held for the party honoree, Gifts of a personal nature in the happy culmination of a school-days romance.

For Sunday's marriage, occurring in Belmont Shores Congregational Community church before the Rev. M. G. Gabrielson, was fulfillment of a romance of a half century ago, when both young people were just 16 years of age. Both were residents of Toledo, Ohio, but one family's departure from that city interrupted the youthful romance. In the meantime, both young people married and reared families. Both had their homes broken up by death, and after more than half a century, they came together again in a few weeks ago when Mr. Jones came to California expressly to seek his boyhood sweetheart.

They are leaving soon for Bethel when Mr. Jones has lived since his retirement after forty years of active railroad work. Next Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Boyle will entertain for them in their home in San Gabriel.

Many of the Santa Ana friends who enjoyed Mrs. McBride's hospitality Saturday afternoon, plan to motor over to San Gabriel for the farewell affair.

Mrs. McBride used a flower arrangement in white for her home decorations for the tea. The table where her daughter, Mrs. George Bradley (Elma McBride) presided at the silver tea urn, was especially attractive with its laces, flowers and tempting refreshments.

Among the close friends who so greatly enjoyed complimenting Mrs. Custard (now Mrs. Jones) with shower gifts, and hearing plans for her wedding, were Mrs. Larry Downs, Mrs. George Peters, Mrs. Roda Ramlose, Mrs. George Cocking, Mrs. Frank D. Corey, Mrs. W. W. Kays, Mrs. George Bradley, with the hostess, Mrs. McBride, and Mrs. Custard's daughter, Mrs. L. Boyle of San Gabriel, and granddaughter, Mrs. John Moss of Santa Maria, who came south for the wedding.

Minnesota University Educator Arrives For Visit With Family

A happy reunion of three brothers and a sister and their respective "in-laws," was made possible by the arrival yesterday from Minneapolis of Dr. and Mrs. William Lasby for a late summer vacation visit in the Southland.

Dr. Lasby is dean of the College of Dental Surgery of University of Minnesota, and will return to his professional duties with the opening of the fall session of school. He is a brother of A. J. Lasby, 215 East Seventeenth street, Edwin W. Lasby, 702 Halladay street, and Mrs. John Tessimann, (Jennie Lasby), 309 East Seventeenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Tessimann are spending the late summer weeks at Laguna Beach, but came back to this city yesterday to welcome the Minnesota guests, remaining for a family dinner party at which the A. J. Lasbys entertained last night in their East Seventeenth street home. This was the first of a series of social affairs planned for the Southland visit of Dr. and Mrs. Lasby.

Gathered around the flower-decked table were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lasby, Dr. and Mrs. William Lasby, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lasby, Mr. and Mrs. John Tessimann, and a quartet of cousins to complete the family circle, the Warren Freemans and Mr. and Mrs. Almer May.

Announcements

Sedwick W.R.C. members, and especially all officers have been requested by their president, Mrs. Alice Milligan, to meet tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in Modern Woodman hall, for an hour's practice in advance of the regular corps meeting at 2 o'clock. Practice is to be in preparation for annual inspection to be held September 14.

Capistrano Y. L. I. will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Knights of Columbus hall. There will be a card party for members.

Mixing Bowl

As good a recipe as this sandwich mixture should be passed on. I can recommend it whole-heartedly because what I thought might last the winter through, was gone, but not forgotten, in less than a month.

A Sandwich Pickle Mixture
12 good sized green tomatoes
12 green sweet peppers
12 red (sweet) peppers
1 cup sifted flour
1-1/2 cups sugar
2 cups pickling vinegar
1 cup prepared mustard
1 quart mayonnaise
1 tablespoon salt.

Wash and steam the tomatoes, seed the washed peppers and run peppers and tomatoes through the food chopper. Gradually blend flour with vinegar, sugar and salt until all ingredients have mixed smoothly, then combine with the ground vegetables. Set the pan over a low flame and stir constantly until the sauce thickens (Cooking time 10 minutes after boiling starts). When the mixture has cooled, stir mayonnaise and salt through it and bottle in clean hot jars, securely sealed.

A favorite recipe or some way you have found to do a household task extra well, is the basis of exchange for the Calory List. When your contribution is accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPES

A Simple Way to Can String Beans
Any quantity of green string beans boiled until tender, as for table use.

1-1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar for each half gallon of beans, measured before boiling.
Boil beans until half done before adding salt and vinegar. Pack in clean hot jars while boiling hot, over-flowing jars with the hot liquid.

Vinegar keeps the beans bright in color and adds "that certain flavor."

Hungarian Goulash
1 pound veal steak or
1-1/2 pounds veal shoulder with bones
2 or 3 dry onions
4 or 5 ripe tomatoes
1 small head of celery
1 cup cooked rice
Bacon fat for frying
Seasonings of salt, pepper, paprika and chili powder, to taste
1 cup water.

Slice and fry onions in bacon fat until lightly browned. Add the diced veal and fry it brown, too. Add the sliced ripe tomatoes, celery and rice. Simmer until the meat is almost tender, at which time add all seasonings and the cup of water. Cover, set over a low flame and cook one hour longer.

Cook corn-on-the-cob in milk if you want milk with water, half and half. Drop in corn as the liquid boils, cover and steam about eight or ten minutes. Draw kettle off the fire and leave the corn in the milk until ready to serve.

Busch-Queyrel Wedding Held In Fullerton

Wearing a beautiful wedding gown of her own design and fashioning, Miss Leah Queyrel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Queyrel of Placentia became the bride of Max Busch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Busch, 107 West Pine street, Sunday in Fullerton St. Mary's Catholic church.

The Rev. Father J. L. Lehane officiated at the 2 o'clock rites, witnessed by 250 friends of the young couple. John Holme sang "Ave Maria" and "Oh Heart of Thee," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Holme, who also played the Wedding Marches.

Various bridal traditions were observed in the bride's lovely costume. The "something borrowed" was a white lace handkerchief; the "something blue," a spray of delphinium in her bridal bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The "something old," an orange blossom wreath which had been part of Mrs. Queyrel's wedding costume, adorned the lace halo cap which Sunday's bride wore with her short veil. Her dress of white tulle was fashioned empire style.

Attendants

Attendants were Mrs. June Busch in yellow lace, Miss Norma Holmes, in chartreuse marquisette and Miss Lorraine Queyrel in blue marquisette. Each carried a French bouquet in tones to enhance the charm of her gown. Ray Busch was best man, Ushers were Edwin Rogers and J. D. Parsons. The bride's niece, little Miss Patricia Anne Johnson, flower girl, in a bouffant frock, and Mr. Queyrel, who gave his daughter in marriage, completed the bridal party.

Setting for the nuptials included an elaborate arrangement of ferns and palms as a background for pink amaryllis lilies and white blossoms.

At the close of the rites, 150 guests motored to the Queyrel home on Valencia avenue, Placentia for a reception in the garden. Mrs. Queyrel wore a blue and lacquered rose costume designed by her bride daughter, while Mrs. Busch was in powder blue. Each wore gardenias and roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. August pierpbenk of Anaheim was attended in flowered silk with gardenias.

Garden Reception

Garden flowers in a variety of hues brightened tables set up in the gardens. Served with other dainties was an elaborately decorated wedding cake.

When Mr. and Mrs. Busch left for their honeymoon trip, the bride again wore a frock of her own design, a dahlia and blue accessories. As a corsage, she wore the orchid which had centered her wedding bouquet. The couple will live in this city. Mr. Busch, who attended Colorado schools and Santa Ana High school, is engaged in weed and pest-control work. The new Mrs. Busch, a graduate of Charlotte School of Costume Designing in Los Angeles, attended Placentia schools and Fullerton High school.

Young People Welcome Betty Hammond Home

Expressing "welcome home" to Miss Betty Hammond, who returned recently from a year's study at Geneva, Switzerland, a group of young couples gathered last night for a wiener bake at Corona Del Mar.

Plans for the informal affair were made by the Misses Geraldine Gilbert and Anne Wetherell. In the group were the Misses Carolyn Davis, Anne Wetherell, Betty Hammond, Josephine Butler, Geraldine Gilbert, Mary Henderson, LaVonne Brandon, and Messrs. Kenneth Oliphant, Bob Robinson, Lucius Smith, Bob Fowler, Leonard Stafford, Robert Forney and Bob Alexander.

Farewell Affair Comes As Compliment to Miss Kiser

Evidencing their interest in Miss Bonnie Kiser's plans to leave early in September to study at University of Wisconsin, a group of young people shared a tea in her home yesterday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Miller, 1509 Heliotrop Drive.

Miss Patsy Miller, daughter of the home, was hostess at the farewell event, shared by members of First Presbyterian Junior class, of which Miss Kiser is teacher.

Pompon dahlias in rose tones centered the attractively-arranged table from which refreshments were served by Miss Miller and Mrs. Miller, assisted by the Misses Jean Dowds, Alice Clare McFarland and Peggy Holloway. Mrs. C. G. Dowds poured tea.

Arranged throughout the rooms were bouquets of pompons in vivid shades. Guests called from 3:30 to 5 o'clock to greet Miss Kiser and to learn of her travel plans. She plans to remain in the east for the entire year, studying for her master's degree. Miss Kiser is a teacher in the city schools.

In the group were the Misses Jane Hoiles, Ruth Ann Segerstrom, Barbara Tucker, Mary Cox, Doris Cox, Marjorie Wall, Lois Wieman, Alice Arterburn, Mary Corey, Marilyn Seeley, Mary Lou McFarland, Eugenia Gilbert, Patsy Miller, Jean Dowds, Alice Clare McFarland, Peggy Holloway and Mesdames H. C. Wilson, C. G. Dowds, O. Scott McFarland and Herbert Miller.

GARDEN LUNCHEON

Bringing members of her bridge club together for a late summer reunion, Mrs. C. D. Hindley was hostess at a garden party recently at her home, 308 South Birch street.

Yellow, white and green were observed in decorative features of covered-dish luncheon which was served at a long table set up in the pretty garden. Bridge play brought prizes to Mrs. C. D. Dessery and Miss Pauline Parsons, who held high and low scores.

Guests sharing the event with the club were Miss Susan Cloyes and Mrs. Coralynn Thompson.

Summer Brings Members Of Mustol Family Together

S. J. Mustol, music instructor in the city schools, plans to leave Wednesday for San Jose, accompanying north his daughter, Miss Nathalie Mustol who has been in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills visiting with relatives.

Miss Mustol, talented violinist who is engaged in radio work in the north, has been enjoying a reunion with her sisters, Mrs. Frederick R. Wood (Virginia Mustol) in Beverly Hills and Mrs. Louis Bui (Evelyn Mustol) of Los Angeles.

Mr. Wood is a cameraman at RKO studios and Mr. Bui, a violinist in Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, also plays with motion picture studio orchestras.

Mr. Mustol, who has just finished the composition of a musical sequence for use in a current picture, was in Hollywood Monday conferring with executives at RKO studio. He will visit with his daughters before he and Miss Nathalie leave Wednesday for the north.

On his return home, Mr. Mustol will be accompanied by his son, Carl V. Mustol who has been in Merced for the summer, and who plans to enroll at Curtis Wright school in Los Angeles.

Earlier in the summer, Mr. Mustol and Miss Nathalie visited friends in Richmond, Pacific Grove, Monterey, Berkeley and other northern points. Miss Mustol was in Del Mar recently to give a musical program during a party at which Bing Crosby was host.

NEW NEWSPAPER MAN

A royal welcome was accorded the little son born Saturday night, August 30, in a Long Beach maternity home, to Mrs. James Wylie (Challa Pospisil) of Huntington Beach, and perhaps the happiest people at the baby's safe arrival, were his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Pospisil, 206 West Washington avenue.

The little lad, who weighed eight pounds, will be christened Richard James Wylie. His father is a member of the Fourth Estate as a staff writer on the Huntington Beach News. His mother was a popular Santa Ana girl, and a graduate of the local schools.

VISITORS FROM MISSOURI

Miss Kathleen Chappell of Kansas City, Mo., is enjoying a visit with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Whitman, 417 East Bishop street and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Whitman, 1131 South Parton street.

The visitor and her mother, Mrs. Mildred Chappell arrived early this month by plane from Missouri, going to Hollywood to spend some time with relatives. Later they came to Santa Ana to visit with the two Whitman families and other relatives, taking trips to Big Bear, San Diego and many other places. N. E. Whitman, who was on vacation last week from his duties as a salesman with Heinz, joined the group for some of the travels.

Mrs. Chappell has gone to Hollywood to spend the next several days while her daughter remains in this city. They plan to leave September 1 for plane for Missouri.

Andrew Johnson, Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford Hayes, James Garfield, Chester Arthur, Benjamin Harrison, and William McKinley all played more or less important roles in the service of the American army during the Civil War.

The only fish that do not sleep are salmon, pike, and goldfish.

Flower Theme Arranged For Wedding Rites

Wreathed with flowers arranged with striking effect, the F. P. Nickey home, 519 Bush street, was setting last night for an unusually interesting wedding, when Mr. Nickey's daughter, Mrs. Mabel Nickey Trago, became the bride of Everett T. Materer.

The prominence of the couple in the city's social and business life, lent special interest to this wedding, which was planned as a very quiet event, with only members of the two family circles as guests. Mrs. Nickey had planned the decorative effect, with dahlias as the flower motif except for a great mass of white oleanders arranged at the foot of the wide stairway in the living room, scene of the marriage service.

This ceremony occurred just at 2 o'clock, as the Westminster chimes of the clock signaled the hour. The intimate guest group was assembled and on the stroke of 8, Mrs. Trago and Mr. Materer entered the home, proceeding immediately to the place arranged for the rites, where the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of First Christian church, met them and read the beautiful service.

Both bride and bridegroom chose white. Mrs. Trago complemented her costume with a wide-brimmed white felt hat and the spray of delicate petals orchids pinned to the shoulder of her modish suit. The choice of wedding date was a happy one, for it coincided with the birthday anniversary of Mr. Materer, so henceforth will have a double importance in the lives of both.

Present to offer their felicitations on the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Nickey, with the bride's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace, and the bridegroom's two sons-in-law and daughters, the Robert Jeffreys and the Minor Coxes, in addition to the minister and his wife, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, all of this city, and the bride's brother-in-law, two sisters, niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bowler, Mrs. Genevieve Spencer, Miss Virginia and John Vernon Spencer, of Los Angeles.

Before departure of the new Mr. and Mrs. Materer for their honeymoon stay at the Atwater on Santa Catalina Island, everyone sought the dining room for refreshments planned by Mrs. Nickey. The table was spread with lace and centered with a cut-glass lamp whose dome stressed the rounded motif of the little yellow pompon dahlias circling it. Slim yellow tapers gleamed in cut-glass candlesticks at the four corners, and their color was repeated in the baskets of display dahlias arranged on buffet and serving table. All the flowers were from the Dr. Emmett Raitt gardens.

Upon return from Catalina, Mr. and Mrs. Materer will live at 216 Cypress avenue. Mr. Materer is prominent in the city's insurance circles, and is an active member of Kiwanis club. His bride is with Mrs. Thomas Prather at the Menie Norman studios. Their plans include a trip later in the season to Indianapolis, for a visit with Mrs. Materer's son, "Gene" Trago, who was unable to leave his business to come west for his mother's wedding.

You and Your Friends

Mrs. Frances Smith of Hollywood, sister-in-law of Charlie Murray, well known comedian, is visiting with Mrs. Ruth O'Connell, 603 South Flower street.

Mrs. Charles C. Hinton, 816 North Ross street plans to leave this evening or a ten days' stay in Long Beach.

Jack Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gardner, 2026 North Ross street and Frank was Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. 617 Orange avenue, left last week for a ten days' trip to Bryce Canyon, Zion National park and the Grand Canyon. They plan to return home by way of Albuquerque, N. M. and Carlsbad Caverns.

Miss Billie Thompson left today for her home in Linden after a week's visit in Santa Ana, her former home city. She spent some of the time with her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Hiram Currey, 2102 North Ross street and with a former school friend, Miss Joanne Hockaday, daughter of the Robert Hockadays, 2025 North Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. John Busch, 107 West Pine street, have as houseguest, Mrs. Jean Long of Long Beach, who is spending a few days here. She came for the wedding Sunday in Fullerton of Mr. and Mrs. Busch's son, Max Busch and Miss Leah Queyrel of Placentia.

Other out of town guests who came for the wedding, and who were overnight guests in the Gusch home were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hall and daughter, Donna of Santa Maria.

Park Breakfast Given Before Departure Of Visitors

That brief visit made by Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Owens and their granddaughter, Miss Kathleen Cox, here in their former home city, came to a conclusion yesterday morning with their departure for their present home in Phoenix, Ariz.

While here visiting among the homes of their various daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Owens made their headquarters with the Maurice Enderles of Yorba street, dividing the time during the days with Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Howard, the Ernest Stumps, Jr. and Mrs. Edward Adams, here from Salinas for the summer months, and the Enderles.

Sunday morning brought the final reunion of the family group, before conclusion of the all-too-brief stay, when the visitors were complimented at an all fresco breakfast in Santiago park. In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Owens and Miss Cox were Dr. and Mrs. Howard and their children, Jerry and Frances; Mr. and Mrs. Adams and baby daughter, Claudia Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. Stump and Mrs. Enderle.

Maurice Enderle and the two sons of the home, Wallace and Alton, were absent on a fishing trip so were unable to take part in the park party. The three joined a "father-son" fishing party up in the High Sierras near Mineral King. Others in the group are R. C. Patton of Orange and his son, Randolph Patton Jr., Wayne Holt and Roland Sosselot of Garden Grove with their sons, Kenneth Holt and Frank Rosselot. They made the trip into the mountain area by automobile and were to pack in to the Kern river territory. All are expected home this week.

Rummage Sale Plans Progress as New Workers Named

Plans progressed today for Junior Ebell society's rummage sale September 8 and 9 at 215 East Fourth street as the general chairman, Mrs. Fred Burlew, appointed additional workers to aid the main committee.

Mrs. E. J. Hanna and Mrs. Louis Pitschen are the two who have been named to assist Mrs. Burlew and other members including the Misses Marian Brownridge, Martha Tutthill, Mary Tutthill, Helen Wiesseman, Ruth Fritz and Mesdames R. M. Conklin, Hans Wahlberg, LeRoy Burns, L. C. Davison, Ray Terrevor, Carleton Smith, James Truitt, Jack Rimel and Kenneth Price.

All Junior Ebell members who have contributed to make to the sale are asked to leave them at the home of Mrs. Davison, 2425 French street. Members who prefer to have the bundles called for are asked to contact Mrs. Rimel, Miss Mary Tutthill or Miss Martha Tutthill.

Mrs. Frances Smith of Hollywood, sister-in-law of Charlie Murray, well known comedian, is visiting with Mrs. Ruth O'Connell, 603 South Flower street.

Mrs. Charles C. Hinton, 816 North Ross street plans to leave this evening or a ten days' stay in Long Beach.

Mrs. Salcido leaves her husband, Raymond Salcido, and four children. Interment was made in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Haste Makes Waste When Waist Needs To Be Reduced
BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Exercises to reduce the waistline and make the stomach flat should be done slowly, deliberately. Try several, decide which three or four you don't mind doing, then repeat each one from twenty to fifty times every day.

Here's an exercise that a good many leading beauty salons recommend to their customers: Lie flat on the floor with arms at sides. Now, without moving hands and keeping ankles together, slowly raise legs from the floor until they are perpendicular with your body. Rest a second. Then lower legs to the floor. Both of these steps MUST be done very slowly. Otherwise, no benefit will be derived. Also, both will be quite difficult at first. Your stomach muscles will ache slightly during and after the exercise. However, if you keep at it, repeating the steps three times the first day, four the second and so on until you are doing them twenty times daily you will most certainly attain a flatter look through your middle.

Posture is important, of course. Many a woman whose stomach seems quite large wouldn't appear overweight if she learned to stand and carry her body correctly.

There should be no exaggerated hollow in the middle of your back. Once this is eliminated, your stomach will be flatter and your hips will look more slender. And if shoulders are square, chest high, the diaphragm will not have a slightly puffy appearance.

To get rid of a hollow in the center of your spinal column and to learn how to keep your chest up and out, do this exercise once a day for two weeks and once a week thereafter.

Lie on the floor with arms at sides and knees bent so that the weight of the legs rests on the balls of your feet. Press the center of your backbone firmly against the hard surface. To accomplish this tilt the base of the spine slightly upward away from the floor. Notice that chest now is raised and that stomach seems to sink in. Hold the position for a few seconds. Relax and repeat. When you get up, try to stand as you were lying—with stomach in, chest high, middle of the backbone quite straight and base of the spine tilted forward.

An excellent material for manufacturing springs and machinery couplings has been developed by combining steel with soft India rubber.

NEW AUXILIARY
HEADS CHOSEN

ORANGE, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Irma Davis, newly installed president of the American Legion auxiliary, presided at the first meeting of the new year last evening at the American Legion clubhouse. Committee heads to serve the coming year were appointed.

Madame Irma Davis, Marian Bickford, Anna Slater, Ida E. Davis and Ora Benson will serve on the ways and means committee. Others include Mrs. Charlotte Adams, Mrs. Rose Carlson and Miss Maude Sisson, auditors; Mrs. Geraldine Hodson, child welfare chairman; Mrs. Flora Fairbairn, rehabilitation; Mrs. Rose Carlson, Americanism; Mrs. Ella Phillips, community service; Mrs. Marian Bickford, flowers and hospital chairman; Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, parliamentary; Mrs. Celia Bryant, disaster relief chairman; Mrs. Margaret Gullede, national defense chairman; Mrs. Nettie Wegner, legislation; Miss Maude Sisson, publicity and radio chairman.

Mrs. Cora Reynolds reported the meeting of the Mother's club of the auxiliary. Miss Maude Sisson reported the meeting of the county council. Mrs. Mildred Montgomery, vice president, reported the meeting of the Armistice day parade committee, which she attended with Mrs. Ann Christensen. Another report was given by Mrs. Louise Osmond, who reported on the convention caucus held at Huntington Beach.

Guests present included Mrs. Pauline Cleary, of Tustin, 21st district president, and Mrs. Gertrude Cleary, also of Tustin, district poppy chairman. Mrs. Marian Bickford and Mrs. Ella Phillips served a refreshment course.

EL MODENA
ORANGE, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Dorothy Mattis and daughter, Frances of Long Beach visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lutz, of North Batavia street, Orange and Mrs. Mattis' sister, Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert, Little Miss Muriel Mattis, who had been a guest in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lutz, and her aunt, Mrs. Schaffert, for the past week, remained for another week.

Among those with the Girl Reserves at Camp Osceola this week are Patricia Stanley, Geraldine Wulff, Joyce Sloan, Sibyl Perry, Frances Irwin and Mary Burchell. Miss Sue Conway, who has been visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Conway, of Berkeley, has returned home. She accompanied Mrs. Doris Gray when she returned from the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Beyer and son, Ellis, and daughter, Elouise, M. Schaffert, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Schaffert and son, Roscoe, and daughter, Lorraine; Lowell Marshall, Muriel Mattis, Elmer Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson and sons, Carl, Charles and David; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Koenig and son, Elmer Jr., enjoyed a picnic dinner at Orange city park Sunday.

Thomas Roth, student at the Bible institute in Los Angeles, will occupy the pulpit in the El Modena Friends church next Sunday morning and evening, in the absence of the pastor, who with his family is touring the northern part of the state.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

"FOOLS RUSH IN" (But fear to sign their names!)

The filthy scandal pamphlet circulated in Orange County last week probably will influence no one unless against those it favors, since it is by its own confession issued by a "Committee of 33" lawbreakers, who busy themselves mostly by calling the kettle black, thus attempting to divert attention from themselves as pots in the same fire.

There are some who are worse than law violators however—those who are cowards. These "33," forming a Coward Committee, first announce that they are "fearless" and then prove it by concealing their identity! Fearless indeed!!

This Coward Committee of "33" boasts of having even ministers and representatives from other respectable occupations as members; they pose as enemies of law breaking while breaking the law themselves as the Fools Who Rush In to spew that scandal that has been aptly described as "Meaneast spawn of Hell." "Fools" indeed!

Since 1901—for 37 years—in California such Fools who "Rush In" have been criminals; hard to catch; working under the usually safe cover of anonymity; using a secret printing plant, not even in the county; using innocent and unsuspecting delivery boys to escape the penalties of using the U. S. mails, they "get by" and hope to accomplish their ends by such criminal means. As for the delivery boys, no one would convict them, while those who wrote, printed or caused it to be done and circulated go free.

It seems "obvious" that the identity of the "Holy 33" be kept secret! Even the candidates whom they harm by commending should feel ease them into jail after conviction, for a commendation from such a source condemns its recipient unless disavowed. Every candidate thus favored by the "Fools Rush In" should promptly and publicly clear themselves of all knowledge of or participation in the preparation of and printing of such political filth; every candidate condemned by these 33 Holler-than-thou cowards (and those commended as well) can rightfully demand their criminal conviction and civil damages, and all decent minded voters should likewise demand their prosecution.

Surely any misguided minister of the Word of God will, when he knows these facts come forward like a man and a minister for Truth, and reveal the whole sordid conspiracy against clean politics and good citizenship. Will not even one come forward with the truth?

"PRUDENT INVESTMENT" THEORY

Testimony produced by the committee investigating the TVA tells of the Authority purchasing 550 acres of phosphate lands in Tennessee for the sum of $680,000. The seller, a private corporation, had bought the lands a short time before for $125,000. A high official of the TVA told the Congressional committee that he was not aware that the seller was making such a handsome profit, but that he would have approved the purchase anyway, because the deposits were needed in the TVA's fertilizer program. The New York World-Telegram says: "Assuming that the phosphate lands are worth all TVA paid, still it seems altogether probable that the TVA might have made a better bargain if it had shopped around a little. Phosphate deposits, we understand, are rather widespread in that region, and even if this particular deposit was the most desirable, it seems not unlikely that the price might have been whittled down if the TVA Board had taken just the customary let-the-buyer beware caution of finding out what the 'prudent investment' value had been before the TVA entered the market as a well-heeled bidder.

"Anyhow, there was no reason for making a hurried purchase. President Roosevelt, who has taken quite an interest in conservation of phosphates and is himself something of an authority on the subject, sent a message to the last session of Congress saying that the country possesses known deposits of that soil-enriching substance sufficient to last 1,100 years, most of these deposits being owned by the government."

This isn't the first example of apparently gross waste of the taxpayers' money by the TVA. And there's nothing surprising in it to the student of the history of government-owned business. There seems to be something about government in business that makes efficiency and economy next to impossible. When you've the public treasury back of you, why haggle over a few hundred thousand dollars?

The Congressional committee would do well to look further into TVA expenditures and activities. After all, the people have been paying through the nose for this experiment in socialism, and they're entitled to know where their money went.

THE VALUE OF HISTORY (Christmas Club Magazine)

"History is a mirror in which we may see ourselves," and not only our exterior, as in a common glass, but if we choose, our more real selves, stripped of trappings, and set on an enduring stage. What we thought novel in our time is seen as old; our distresses that we so magnified, dwindle when we see the ages, inheritance of pain; our very errors appear as the necessary tentatives of truth, and no longer hang so heavy on our necks; and in passionless and understanding contemplation of the world's unrolling, we may attain to one of the privileges of the gods. That is why history, the least valuable of disciplines when unintelligently studied, comes to hold premier place when the fullness of the mind is playing on it.

FIVE YEAR LOWS (Rockford Register-Republic)

After advancing encouragingly through June and the first half of July commodity and grain prices have fallen off sharply to add a discordant note to the predictions of a late summer recovery. Grain prices hit a five year low on Monday. That is a hard blow, because agriculture is the foundation of prosperity. The city dweller cannot expect to thrive if the farmer is not successful.

There is no single phase of the managed economy of the national administration which gives its sponsors more trouble than the price structure. We are all helping to pay the bill incurred by Secretary Wallace in his plan to insure good times on the farm, but this expenditure does not seem to be producing the promised results.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

LITTLE MACHINES VERSUS BIG MACHINES

Practically every worker can see the advantages and necessity of small machines to the working man, but believes that big machines are in a different class and put people out of work.

While talking to a barber the other day, he expressed the opinion that big machines were putting people out of work. I pointed out to him that he would have no job at all if it were not for machines. If there were no razors, shears or clippers, there would be no job for barbers; that if neither of us had a fish hook and we were obliged to make a living by catching fish, neither one of us would work for the other, but if he had a fish hook and I could work for him and make more than I could working alone, I immediately would go to work for him.

And the principles of big machines are the same. Where the average person becomes confused is that he thinks there is a limited amount of work to be done. If this were true, of course, then machines would reduce the amount of jobs. They do reduce the amount of work but human beings have more wants than they can possibly supply and these wants are only supplied by work. So every machine just makes it possible for workers to have more of the comforts of life, which is another way of saying machines make it possible for him to have better real wages.

It is this belief that big machines are detrimental to the working class that results in present laws that have reduced the customary increase in new capital necessary to support an ever increasing population on an ever increasing standard of living.

40-HOURS A WEEK IN FRANCE

France has been following closely the reactionary laws passed by the new old-deal. One of the laws they have passed in harmony with the more and more governmental regulation is the 40-hour a week.

On this subject, Premier Daladier declared, "The road to safety is work. The forty-hour week must be changed as much because of national necessity as because of the general European situation."

He says the only solution is to increase French production.

He points out that the franc has weakened because the national income in France has slumped steadily from the 1931 high of 49,000,000,000 gold francs to a 1937 low of 22,000,000,000. Of this last figure, he said, the state and municipalities took more than 10,000,000,000 francs.

How low will our national income have to go in actual comforts of life before the people realize that the Administration's policy of regulation and restriction is just a delusion and a snare and that it lowers the standard of living of all the people and lowers the real wages of all workers?

DANGER OF $30 A WEEK PLAN

When I discussed in this column the $30 a week plan in California, I did not know one of its most dangerous demands.

It requires all state and subdivisions of state taxing districts to accept these warrants in lieu of money. This, of course, would break every state subdivision. It would paralyze the functions of state and subdivision governments. It would do this because it would give them no income, other than warrants, and they would have nothing to pay for the buying of material or paying interest or the half of the salaries it was obliged to pay to its employees. This would paralyze local government, should the bill be declared constitutional, and pass.

of production and government loans to support the prices of certain commodities, it becomes increasingly clear that the forces of supply and demand will not be denied and that while the price level as a whole may be affected by government direction, the price of wheat and cotton will be determined in the last analysis by forces not in man's control.

Secretary Wallace planned to eliminate uncertainty from agriculture. He and his co-planners have spent from May 12, 1933, to Aug. 31, 1937, a total of $2,294,727,246 through the AAA. They have spent hundreds of millions more in the last 12 months in an effort to bring about ideal conditions in agriculture and the results are the lowest grain prices in five years.

TRADING DOLLARS (From the Kansas City Star)

Now you can see where the money is coming from to pay pensions of $30 each Thursday to every person in California who is above the age of 50. The payments would be made in scrip, which would be built up to the value of money by the purchase and attachment of 2-cent State stamps—this being done by each person who accepted the scrip to begin with.

In substance, this was the scheme of Prime Minister Albert of Alberta, who was going to pay social credit "dividends" of $25 a month to every adult in the Canadian Province, make smaller payments to minors and children and do a lot of other things for the people's good.

The Albertian scrip proposition blew up immediately, because nobody would accept the stuff in lieu of real cash. Credulous as many of them are, Californians doubtless would rebel in the same manner—unless, indeed, all those above 50 agreed to use the worthless scrip among themselves, finally converting it into cash by paying out their own money, then getting that back in the form of pensions. This is the familiar bootstrap method that never fails.

By Benjamin de Casseres

"I think we democrats are entirely too tolerant," says a writer in an English newspaper.

Sometimes I think so, too. Maybe we are leaning backward, and in leaning backward in our tolerance we are missing the crafty game going on under our eyes to make this an INTOLERANT Communist or Fascist nation.

Universal tolerance is like universal peace—everybody must agree to it to make it workable.

One large intolerant group—Communist, Fascist, Nazi—will begot intolerance in the tolerant group, just as one rotten peach may taint a whole basketful of peaches.

Tit for tat is the rule of the world, and it may be that our own democracy some day may be compelled as a sheer matter of self-preservation to resort to intolerant methods to put down intolerant groups.

That's the historic irony and paradox of progress—like begets like.

No distortion of this truth can bring up a substitute for the American principle. There is no substitute. History has shown that big government makes for little men, and little government for big men. And little men are the meat of dictatorship and the brawn of slavery.—Los Angeles Examiner.

The Cry of Bloodhounds in the Southland

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

LAKESIDE, Ohio—One of the President's greatest prides is that he knows how to "get things done politically." It is an art of which some Presidents like Mr. Hoover and, toward the end, Woodrow Wilson, seemed absolutely innocent. No President, not even Andy Jackson could hold a candle to F.D.R. in this sprightly science.

He is supposed to have said that if he had been charged with Mr. Wilson's job of putting us in the League of Nations, he could have done it and I believe he could. He was turned back on the court bill and the extreme form in which reorganization was presented, but you can bet that he is far from through. If his pursues all succeed, he will be back with them and more—and he will get away with it. That is what the purges are for—"to get things done politically."

Like a good chess player, he bakes very few moves which are not merely preliminary to what he wants ten moves ahead. A vast government hydro-electric economic province in the St. Lawrence watershed has been his hobby for many years. It can't be done without Canadian consent and co-operation. It needs all the support of all the states in the Great Lakes basin.

Theoretically, a deep-water channel through the Great Lakes with enlarged locks and harbors would enable great ocean-going vessels to dock at Duluth and Chicago. Practically, for reasons already stated here, its use and economic advantage to the interior states would be trifling. That statement is contested, but at least it is fair to say that the Great Lakes seaway has been ruthlessly oversold to the Lake and interior states.

But it is politically necessary to have their support for the hydro-electric development in the St. Lawrence. Furthermore, the federal government is supposed to have no legal power to develop hydro electric projects, except as an incident to its power to develop waterways for navigation. For both reasons, while Mr. Roosevelt isn't the author of the St. Lawrence seaway plan, he is a far better foster father than any of its natural parents. That is "getting things done politically."

Some critics may say that F.D. is getting a bit pretty much of a Fuehrer is assuming to assure a foreign country of military assistance in case of attack and warning it against permitting water power development by American interests.

What the President said on that subject was no more startling than the thrilling fact that two and two make four. But, boy, with the Canadian Waterways treaty coming up again, what scintillatingly brilliant use the old maestro was making of it.

Both Canadian speeches were masterpieces—not so much of diction and eloquence though good enough at that—but of "getting things done politically" and merely in his own country. He crossed the border and worked the old magic on subjects of the King-Emperor. You've got to hand it to the President.

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add no unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Fellow Citizens:

This writer attended his first and only "California Pension Plan" meeting last week, at the request of one of its local representatives, and was asked to preside as chairman to introduce the speakers, in the absence of the regular chairman.

After introducing the first speaker—a (Mrs.) "Dr." Barry, to whom this writer listened with growing distaste and impatience, and when the second speaker was to be introduced, this writer called on the regular chairman, who was now in the audience, to take the chair, and took a seat in the audience desiring to ask some questions. If a question were asked, the speaker answered by a speech, not at all to the point, or would request that the question be written down and "mailed to our headquarters, to be answered over the radio". When the meeting was over and the crowd was passing through the aisles, one irate female hissed into the ear of this writer, "You were paid to come here to oppose our Plan."

All this, because I asked questions the speakers seemed incompetent to answer.

My conclusion is after reading "Ham and Eggs" twice over and attending this meeting and scanning other literature on the subject without any signatures of the "Sponsors" or promoters, who conceived this precious "pension plan", that it is an imposture and that the only people who will get anything out of it, is its promoters, and that their deluded followers will get—just nothing—for all the thousands of dollars which the promoters collect daily. This invisible group is preying on the public by promising a pension to old people it can never deliver. The speakers sent out by this group, who pretend to be authorities on two of the most complex and technical of the sciences, namely, finance and banking, and economics, are utterly unfitted either by natural endowment or by mental training to formulate and explain a plan, which only the trained mind and intelligence can undertake without blatant impudence. I felt this as I read that crude composition "Ham and Eggs" and listened to the speakers at last week's meeting. I felt ashamed to be associated with such a scheme in any way. The implication that any valid information could be had by the thinker in such a meeting was humiliating, as one gathered its purport and the real nature of its "sponsors".

The only good as a by-product of these schemes of inferior minds is that it has made the public pension-minded, so that they may get together behind the "National Pension Act" now before our Federal Legislature, which I understand, will ensure $50 a month to needy old people over a certain age (60 or 65 years) in good United States currency, accepted anywhere and everywhere, without depreciation or discount. One of the features of a State Warrant, even when issued for legitimate purposes, is that if there is no currency in the treasury, and the holder of the warrant (who may be a clerk or laborer) may at a pinch, have to discount it for considerably less than its face. All people interested should write to Congressman Sheppard for a copy of the National Pension Act and encourage its speedy passage after proper statesmanlike criticism, which it can only obtain in our national legislature.

Finally, a state law should be enacted, compelling all professional promoters of private or public schemes to register with the appropriate state officer, on payment of a licensing fee, and that such promoters activities should be under the supervision of the state auditor, who should require an itemized statement of all fees collected and their disbursement, especially in such cases as this California Pension Plan, in which the public gets no protection from the state and is at the mercy of the promoters.

HENRY WEEKS, Laguna Beach, Cal.

Fellow Citizens: Observers cannot help being amused, listening to the rantings, against gambling, by the editor of Santa Ana's colored weekly, the back pages of which are well loaded with liquor advertising, while the front page spits venom at the sheriff, incidentally the only one of all the peace officers of Orange County who has done anything to curb the gambling in question.

Every right thinking citizen wants to see the county rid of gambling and gamblers. They add nothing to the wealth of the county, and they take plenty away from those who do.

The editor of the above mentioned weekly, recently charged the sheriff, through his columns, with having picked up gambling machines, from time to time, but never prosecuting a single violator. In fairness to all parties concerned, I fear the weekly's editor is not a very thorough news gatherer. I was curious enough to do a little pussy-footing on my own, and learned that 56 violators in one Orange County town alone, had been prosecuted, and local juries turned every one of them loose. That's one for the book. And further, I was amazed to read the name of the chief of police of the above mentioned town, on the nominating petition, of another candidate for sheriff. As Andy says: "That's gratitude!" And I may add, that's cooperation! I don't think.

Plastered with a load of jury whitewash it would, I fear, be rather difficult to drive the gamblers out.

A portion of the Fifth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, reads as follows: "Nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb."

Just a few jury acquittals, and Orange County may be a gambler's paradise, full of big-shot racketeers, and possibly, soon, political control, for an acquittal amounts to an injunction against interference by all peace officers.

It is one thing to pass a law against gambling. It is another to enforce it. It becomes the duty of every citizen to help in this. If juries allow themselves to be swayed by a local popular demand, to fail in their duty, they are the last thin line of defense we can count on, and we have nothing left.

Neither the attorney general, the sheriff, the township constable or any of the local police departments can do anything without the help of fearless, unbiassed juries.

Do we want gambling and gamblers driven out of Orange County, or not?

PROFESSOR FINDS A GAS TAX

BY HARLEY L. LUTZ
Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University

DOVER, England.—An increasing number of Americans are taking their cars abroad, or renting them upon arrival. Since the superiority of the motor car, for sight-seeing purposes, is as evident in Europe as it has been found to be in the United States, the practice may be expected to increase. For the benefit of those who may be considering a foreign auto tour, the following notes and comments are offered on motoring in England. The details of shipping a car are passed over, as the steamship companies will supply such information. Suffice to say that they will carry your car to any port at which you may desire to embark.

The English road surfaces are uniformly good. They should be for the English have been doing more or less with macadamizing their highways ever since the Scotchman, Macadam, devised this method of road surfacing in the later Eighteenth Century. But both the roads and the streets are quite variable as to width. They range all the way from broad thoroughfares to passages too narrow for a good-sized wheelbarrow. The British reluctance to cut their roads into the hedge rows, and the driver must be clairvoyant to be sure of what is around each hedge-screened corner.

Good American gasoline is available everywhere, and at a fixed uniform price all the way from Lands' End to John O'Groats. This year the price is one shilling and seven pence per gallon, which is the tax is nine pence per gallon. This is equivalent to a price of 37 cents, of which 18 cents is tax. In terms of the United States gallon, these figures work out as a price of 31.1 cents per gallon, and a tax of 14.4 cents. This is one sample of the high foreign taxes we are to be thankful for not having, although there are some places in the United States, in which the combined federal, state and local gasoline taxes are not so much below the English level. The gasoline tax, together with an annual motor license tax of about $3.75 per unit of horsepower, explains why some English cars are little more than perambulators equipped with an engine.

Touring information is scarce, but fortunately the roads are well marked. Really good highway maps are lacking. Our oil companies give away far better maps than can be bought in England. The American driver misses those services which our filling stations give—such as cleaning the windshield and checking the water. But he also misses the rudeness and incivility of some of his own country's traffic officers. The two automobile associations have at least 10,000 employees on the roads. These scouts do everything from directing cross-road traffic to giving first aid to the disabled cars of the associations' members. The English drive on the left side. By simply following the traffic the adjustment is quickly made. Even after days of left-side driving, however, the American driver is likely to have some bad moments when a car comes at him round a narrow, hedge-hidden turn on what seems to be the wrong side of the road.

England has her road pests, as we have. With us, the Model-T Ford and the one-armed driver are near the top. In England the bicyclist takes the first, and all the other prizes. They come singly and in swarms. They ignore all autos and they take all of the road. If one had to choose between watching a herd of cows and a flock of English cyclists, he would choose the cows. They are more alert to danger, and much less expensive to hit.

An immense expenditure will be required to transform the English highway system from the stagecoach to the motor era. Much of the mileage is quite as the stagecoaches left it, but some of the experimental roads may be seen. One of these, running west from York, provides three separate traffic lanes in each direction—for cars, for cyclists and for pedestrians, respectively.

All in all, however, it is impossible properly to see and enjoy rural England without a car. Much of this is so charming, so thorough new and interesting to the visitor from America, as to offset the petty annoyances from the cyclists, the narrow concealed turns, and the mutton with boiled potatoes that awaits the hungry traveler at the end of each day's run.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Only two things are turning out wrong for the spend-lead program. It cannot spend. It cannot lend.

Only half-hearted attempts are being made here to conceal the fact that the billions provided by Congress months ago to lift the country out of the spring depression are just not flowing to that purpose.

Take PWA, as the most flagrant example. Official inside figures show that out of $28 million actually dispersed by PWA in July, about $2.9 millions were under the old tapering-off program and only $100,000 (thousands, mind you, not millions or billions) came from the new spend-lead program.

Or take USHA, whose Administrator Straus is now touring cities pleading that they take his money.

There are many reasons as there are projects. Those thousands or so PWA projects which Mr. Ickes waved in the face of Congress as being ready to start, apparently weren't. White tape, involving necessary revisions, have held up actual expenditures, although allocations are being announced freely. You may accept it on exceptionally good authority that PWA money will not reach business channels in any volume until after the first of the year; probable peak is next March. No one knows when USHA funds ever will. The cities do not like the 10 per cent contribution requirement. Troubles are being encountered with many local real estate boards.

Consequently something of a crisis has arisen in administration of spend-lead funds. And election is only a little more than two months off.

The government never has been able to get its spending facts and figures until long after the operations have been over. Even now when this spending is supposed to be a controlling business factor, exact estimates are difficult to obtain from some of the spenders and lenders, particularly RFC.

The following table, however, was compiled after considerable research and exhaustive consultations and may be considered an accurate estimate of what each agency is spending monthly and contemplates spending in the next few months in channels affecting business.

Figures are in Millions of Dollars

Agency July. Aug. Sept. Oct. Nov. Dec. 6 Mos. Incr. - Decr. Authorized

Totals 324 369 440 440 482 480 2,535 538

Note—These are not net payments to business from the government of course, as the government has collected or will eventually collect all its expenditures from business and from people in taxes, plus interest.

A jump of $75 millions is contemplated next month; then another of $40 millions in November, the table shows.

But PWA, which is handling the great bulk of the out-seeing, expects to give away only $250 millions more this six months than last. PWA will actually fall, you will note, when winter winds make construction difficult in many sections, and the old program tapers further. AAA, too, will be off $23 millions this six months, but it will mean nothing politically or financially, as the farm deficiency will be more than made up by the commodity credit corp. Four agencies will spend less this six months, AAA, Civilian Conservation, Farm Security and Federal Surplus Commodities.

Even so December expenditures will be 66 per cent above last January, 37 per cent above April.

Yet all are far short of what Keynes and the other New Deal prophets of recovery by spending have been talking or thinking about as a depression cure-all. The figures certainly raise a question in view of the time that has elapsed since the program was initiated (first PWA allocation was made June 22 as to whether such programs are efficient for the purposes for which they were advertised. Something will be done about it before election no doubt.

One of the things which Agricultural Secretary Wallace at Hyde Park was a cotton export subsidy to follow up on the proposed wheat export subsidy. There is strong internal pressure for it from political quarters down south. It is coming.

Next Dies committee sensation will be exposure of Communist activities in a public college in the New York Metropolitan area. Testimony will indicate the faculty of this institution (which annually gets $18 millions of the taxpayers money) runs from deep pink to crimson.
